PRESIDENT HAD SANE MAN HELD FOR "INSANITY"

"He's Crazy," Declared Executive, When Andrew Nash Called to Present a Petition, and He Ordered His Arrest and Imprisonment.

KEPT IN JAIL TILL DOCTORS SAID HIS MIND WAS SOUND

Story Suppressed by Administration Influences Until Congressman Baker Exposed It, Declaring "Lese Majeste" Was Real Ground for Arrest.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Robert Baker, a representative in Congress from Brooklyn, made a red hot speech before the Manhattan Single Tax Club at the Marlborough Hotel last night. He was particularly severe in criticising President Roosevelt, especially the President's inclination to "absolutism" as he phrased it.

"This is no wild and foolish dream, a recent conference at the White house proves," said Mr. Baker.

"Already great strides toward absolutism have been made. Ten days ago, or, to be exact, March 26, a resident of Washington, a man who was employed by Hanna both in 1896 and 1900 to help "save" the country, who has been a contractor with the post-office department, who claims he aided in the exposure which has developed so much rottenness, who has been prominent in Citizens' movements in Washington in opposition to railroad grab legislation, and who was particularly incensed at the idea of a highly respected gentleman named Babcock being re-elected chairman of the Republican congressional committee, called at the White house to present a petition on the subject to the President. After waiting about an hour he was asked to return the next week.

"Arrest the Man. He's Crazy," Said President.

"Being desirous that the matter should be given early attention and fearing that delay might defeat his object, he wrote a brief note explaining the need for immediate consideration of the matter and sent it in with the paper he had brought with him. What was the result do you suppose? Why, the paper so aroused the President's ire that he sent out orders to 'arrest the man, he's crazy.'

"The significant feature about the matter, however, is that, although arrested and locked up for seven hours, from 1 to 8 p. m., during which time two physicians examined him, as to the alleged insanity, but declared him of sound mind, not one line has yet appeared in either of the three Washington papers on the subject, the reason assigned by at least one reporter being that it would hurt the President.

"It was only as a result of the strenuous efforts of his relatives—prominent business men there—that this man, Andrew O. Nash, was released. I have received a letter from a gentleman in which he states he has known Mr. Nash for years; that he is connected with a prominent and wealthy family in that city; that he is perfectly sane, and in which the action of the President is characterized as outrageous and the most flagrant violation of the right of petition ever perpetrated in this country.

"There's but One Sovereign, Now."

"Now, what does this mean? It means that a new crime has been added to the calendar—that of lese majeste. We are no longer sovereign citizens; there is but one sovereign now. Is it not symptomatic of the times and of the man who accidentally possesses the great power of the presidency?

"It has come to a nice pass that a man may not point out the danger of his party and the country, must not dare suggest that corruption exists in the postoffice department, nor intimate that the head of that department cannot be trusted to uncover fraud there, but is more disposed to suppress all knowledge of it; may not avail himself of the right which exists in most monarchial countries—the right of petition—without being arrested and examined as to his sanity.

"But worse even than that, the tremendous power of the presidential office is used to prevent any details of the matter being published."

WASHINGTON POLICE RECORDS SHOW NASH WAS ARRESTED AS CHARGED.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Amazement was created here when Congressman Baker's expose of Andrew Nash's arrest at the White House became known today. The arrest took place ten days ago and has been kept dark for some reason by everybody concerned.

Andrew O. Nash, a Washingtonian, who was formerly active in Republican politics, called at the White House to lay before the President evidence which, as Nash asserted, would demonstrate that Mr. Babcock of Wisconsin was unfit to remain at the head of the Republican congressional committee.

He had written saying he would call for that purpose at a certain hour on Saturday and asking for an interview.

Nash sent in his card to the President

BOMB THROWN AT THE SPANISH KING.

KING ALFONSO.

Attempt to Assassinate Alfonso Made at Barcelona, Made as the Young Ruler of Spain Was Leaving the Exposition Building.

MADRID, April 7.—An official telegram from Barcelona states that as King Alfonso was leaving the exposition a "Petard" exploded. The king was unharmed, but two peasants in the crowd were badly hurt. The person who threw the bomb was not seen, but one arrest of a suspicious character was made. The incident created great commotion. The king hastily entered a carriage and, surrounded by guards, was driven away.

King Alfonso arrived at Barcelona yesterday for a fortnight's visit to Catalonia. He was accompanied by Premier Maura and War Minister Linaries and a numerous suite.

The visit of the King to Barcelona, which is the hotbed of Republicanism, caused the greatest disquiet in Spanish official quarters, as it was feared the Republicans and Socialists would vent on the King their hatred of the premier, whose strong measures in dealing with the strike rioters had made him very unpopular.

As a preventive measure, large numbers of anarchists and other suspects were arrested last week and a cruiser, three gunboats and a large force of gendarmes were sent to Barcelona.

The Spanish King was accorded a respectful reception and shortly after his arrival attended a Te Deum at the cathedral. The streets were decorated with flags and lined by enormous crowds of people.

It was estimated that there were 200,000 persons in the streets and the pressure was so great that the cordons of troops and police were repeatedly broken by the people, who were anxious to see their monarch, and the King was thus separated from his attendants when the bomb was thrown.

ROME, April 7.—The news of the attempt on the life of King Alfonso by the explosion of a bomb as he was leaving the exhibition at Barcelona, produced the deepest impression here, especially among members of the Spanish colony of Rome, which is quite numerous.

King Victor Emmanuel learned the news while presiding at his weekly conference with the cabinet ministers, and he immediately personally telegraphed to the Spanish King his warmest congratulations on his escape.

The papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, when informed of the attempt, hastened with the news to the Pope, who exclaimed:

"Poor, misguided souls. There is no excuse for their crime."

The Pope then instructed the papal secretary to telegraph the Pontiff's congratulations to King Alfonso on his escape.

LONDON, April 7.—The Spanish embassy here has not received any information in regard to the attempt made upon the life of King Alfonso at Barcelona. Dispatches from Madrid and Barcelona are anxiously awaited, but owing to the strict censorship in Spain, especially in the case of such events as the one reported from Barcelona, some time may elapse before details of the attack are received here.

So far nothing has been received here beyond the Madrid dispatch announcing that an official telegram had reached there from Barcelona saying that as King Alfonso was leaving the exhibition at Barcelona a bomb was exploded, two peasants were injured, and one individual was arrested.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Browns vs. Cardinals, Sportsman's Park.
Athletics vs. Phillies, Philadelphia.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, April 7.—Howell's poor work on third for the Browns resulted in a change in the infield arrangement of the Browns in the fifth game of the spring series with the Cardinals here this afternoon.

Howell was retired and Jones brought over to third from first. "Old Joe" Sugden was sent to first. Howell's work at third has been very poor and his batting still worse.

Gleason, Wallace and Hill are still on the hospital list, though Wallace may possibly be in shape to open the regular series April 14.

The Cardinals have a pair on their sick list also. Brain is unable to play and probably will be out until Saturday, and Shannon gets into the game with difficulty, his left arm being afflicted with muscular rheumatism.

The tide of popular favor has set strongly in favor of the Cardinals, and the betting is slightly indicative of this. The announcement that Sudhoff would work for the Browns, which was given out during early practice, helped the Browns' end to hold its own.

Shay Jumps Into Favor With the Fans.

Danny Shay has caught on with the crowd. In his brilliant work yesterday in the game and today in practice at League Park, he displayed all the earmarks of a firstrate player.

Stanley Robison is enthusiastic over the showing of Shay, and if he can stand the pace there may be a rearrangement of the Cardinals' infield before the season is far gone.

BLISS WILL FRY OUT THE FUNDS

Protected Interests to Put Up the Money for the National Republican Campaign.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Cornelius N. Bliss will remain treasurer of the Republican national committee on account of his familiarity with the sources of revenue of the Republican campaign funds. President Roosevelt has consented that the business management of the coming campaign be financed just as was the last McKinley one. The big protected industries are to furnish the money. Their price is continued protection of their interests.

No one is more competent to gather this money in than Cornelius N. Bliss, and no one is more trustworthy in concealing where the funds come from.

While he is handling the checks there need be no record of the million dollars which Carnegie, the steel magnate, has promised. Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, the father-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and the high priest of protection in the Senate, will have a very important working part in the coming campaign. When President Roosevelt learned that the head of the Standard Oil trust intended to be very friendly to him, and in a most substantial way he said that he was willing for Senator Aldrich to be chairman of the national committee.

It was finally decided by the Republican leader that it would be better if he were given a less conspicuous part. Senator Aldrich will aid Mr. Bliss in "fat frying" and his position in the senate makes him very desirable for the part.

President Roosevelt is fond of saying to his callers that "very little money will be needed for my campaign."

As a matter of fact preparations are being made to use vast quantities.

INJUNCTION AGAINST CHURCH.

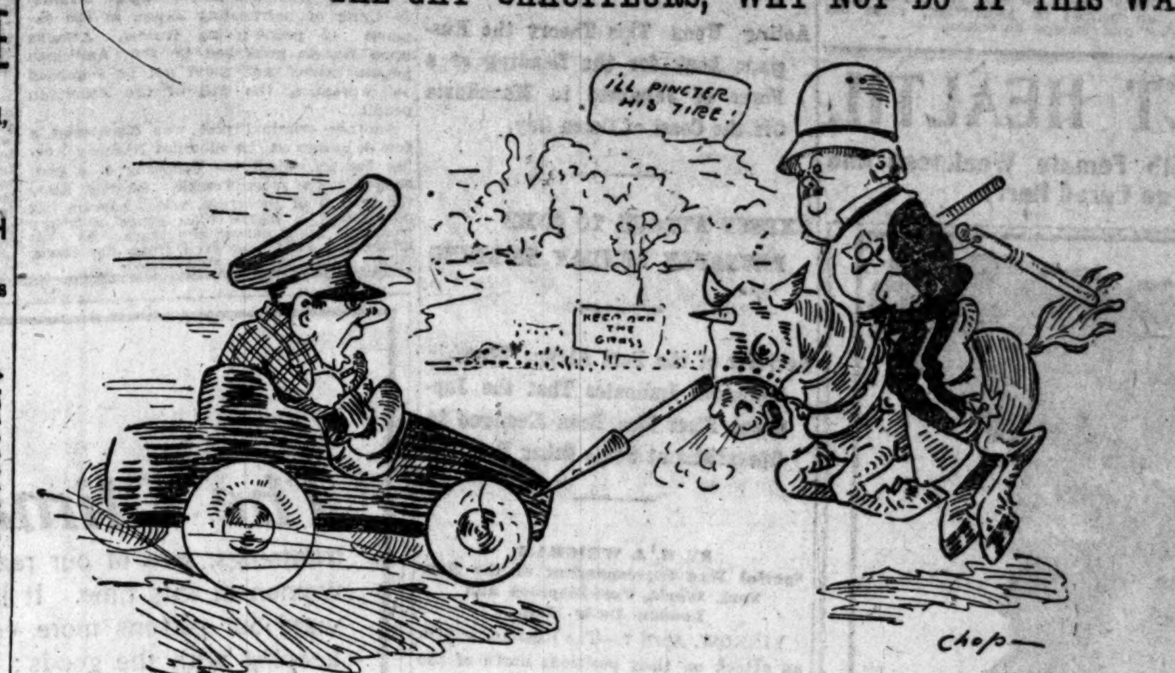
School Director Objects to Religious Use of Building.

The St. Louis County Circuit Court will be asked to decide whether the Ritenour public school can be used for undenominational religious services to the exclusion of service by any particular religious faith.

The question was asked by Henry Wallis, who resigned from the directorate and clerkship of the Ritenour school at the annual meeting of the district Tuesday, and who threatens to institute injunction proceedings if the holding of Sunday services in the school building is not discontinued.

During the winter religious services by the Union Church, which is said to include members of several denominations, have been held in the school building. It is said the refusal of the privilege to hold services in the school to members of the Presbyterian and Christian churches precipitated the opposition.

SINCE THE MOUNTED POLICE ARE ORDERED TO CURB THE GAY CHAUFFEURS, WHY NOT DO IT THIS WAY



Like the gallant knights of old
Who in pictures we behold—
Illustrations in the novels from the Indiana works—
Our policemen, mounted gaily,
Wild chauffeurs will tackle daily,
Stopping them with sudden vigor and a few terrific jerks.

Armed as were those figures knightly
Who once roamed the world politely,
On the crowded public highways they will chase the fierce chauffeur,
And, addressing him, how gruffly!
Will compel him, very roughly,
To cut down his auto record and of scorching to beware.

As in tournament and joust
Knights of old kicked up the dust—
Of all horsemen they were certainly the very pick and flower—
So our coppers, armed and mounted,
Tip-top riders all accounted,
Will defy the dashing demons and all "devils" overpower.

PLOT TO ESCAPE AT ST. LOUIS JAIL

Noise of a Drill Led to the Detection of the Attempt to Make a Tunnel.

THE WORK HAD JUST BEGUN

Two Prisoners, Held to Answer Charges of Larceny and Embezzlement Caught in the Act.

The tapping of a drill led to the detection of a plan to escape from the St. Louis jail Wednesday evening.

Jailer Dawson went into the jail to guide a photographer sent to make pictures for the sociological exhibit at the Exposition. While he was in the jail he heard a suspicious noise.

Investigation led him to cell No. 13, in which Joseph H. Singer and Tom Sweeney were held to answer charges of larceny and embezzlement.

Singer and Sweeney were discovered to have been working upon the floor of their cell with an iron bar from a cot.

They had begun drilling into the cement a hole 15 inches in diameter, presumably with the intention of tunneling out into the jail yard. The work had just been begun when discovered.

The men were sent to the dungeon and later in the night they were separated and placed in other cells.

M'CULLOCH'S AX IS TO SWING AGAIN

W. T. Cooke Resigns as Superintendent of Motive Power—Other Resignations of Important Heads Expected.

W. T. Cooke has resigned as superintendent of motive power of the St. Louis Transit Co. His successor has not yet been appointed. Other officials and employes of the company are arranging to give Mr. Cooke a farewell banquet.

It is expected that other resignations of important officials may follow as a result of the accession of Capt. McCulloch to the management of the company. Mr. Cooke was appointed superintendent of motive power by A. B. Du Pont when he became general manager.

An opportunity will be given motormen to tell why they speed past corners where passengers are waiting for a car by Capt. McCulloch, the new vice-president and general manager of the St. Louis Transit Co., who is determined to break up the practice.

Except where there has been a blockade and the motorman is compelled to speed his car to relieve congestion, and where one or more cars are following closely, no excuse by the motorman will be accepted. Merely making up time will not be considered as sufficient reason.

TOWNSHIP ASSESSOR INDICTED

Venice Official Is Charged With Being Sheetwriter in Madison Poolroom.

It became known Thursday morning that Whitfield Brooke, tax assessor for Venice township, was arrested last Friday night by Sheriff Crowe of Madison County on an indictment charging him with complicity in the operation of the Madison poolroom. He is charged with being a sheetwriter in the poolroom.

Brooke was admitted to $1000 bond, signed by Dr. W. H. Grayson and Philip Lauff, a hotel keeper, immediately after his arrest. The date of his preliminary hearing has not been set.

Brooke was defeated for re-election at the election Tuesday, in which the poolroom was an issue, although the fact of his indictment and arrest was not known at the time.

"LOVE NOTES--JUST A LOT OF TRASH

Troubles of a Wife, Who Has a Rival in Husband's Affections, Make Up Story of Divorce Suit.

The troubles of a wife with a rival for her husband's affections were told on the witness stand in Judge Kinealy's division of the Circuit Court by Mrs. Charlotte M. Jackson. She related many instances which tended to indicate that Thomas D. Jackson was more fond of Alice Miller of 4218 Natural Bridge road.

The plaintiff, a brunette of decided beauty, gave her evidence in peppery fashion.

She told of having found four letters addressed: "My Darling Tom," and signed "Your Sweetheart Alice."

Her attorney asked her what the letters contained between the address and the signature.

"O, a lot of trash," she said, "trash which disgraced me greatly."

"What do you mean by trash?"

"Love, regular love," ejaculated the witness, in tones of the deepest disgust.

A photograph was introduced in evidence. Mrs. Jackson identified it as that of Alice Miller. She identified as in the writing of Alice Miller the inscription, "In remembrance of your sweetheart, Alice." She said her husband brought the photograph home and told her to take good care of it, as "he thought a great deal of that little girl."

She was asked what led up to an attack on her with a razor by Mr. Jackson.

"O, just a fuss," she said.

She told of her husband buying a bunch of carnations on Easter Sunday for Alice Miller. "He offered me two of them," she said, "but I would not take them."

Once he left the house, saying he was going to see Alice Miller.

"When he returned," she said, "I was crying. He said: 'I left a crying woman and I come home and find another crying woman. Alice never wants me to leave her. I don't know how it is. All the girls love me.'

Should Wear Hair "In a Dip."

A letter was read which Jackson had sent to his wife while they were separated begging for a reconciliation. Her attorney came to a word which he could not make out. He showed it to Mrs. Jackson. She identified the work as "muggy," and blushed. The reading of the latter caused Jackson to wipe tears from his eyes.

They were reconciled, and about the first thing he did was to insist that she wear her hair "in a dip." She said she wouldn't.

"Why?" asked her attorney.

"Because that was the way Alice Miller wore her hair."

She was asked about Mr. Jackson's habits of dress.

"He wore red shirts and collars and painted his face always.

"Why did he do that?"

"Because he was vain."

Mr. Jackson's attorney objected. He allowed that red shirts and collars were not a cause for divorce. "The man might have worn a pair of red pants without giving cause of divorce," he said.

She told of seeing her husband in a room. Her husband was playing a banjo and Alice Miller was singing "The Sweet Bye and Bye."

Mr. Jackson's attorney read a letter on cross-examination from Walter C. McCreedy, in which the language occurred: "I wish you could understand how I love you."

"I don't understand," Mrs. Jackson exclaimed. "He will have to speak for himself."

Letters written in cipher were produced. Mrs. Jackson would not admit having received them.

She told of her husband compelling her to go the theater with him and Alice Miller.

COULDN'T ARREST THE FAIR.

"W. F. Grounds" Proved to Be Address, Not Name.

"Please tell me where I can find W. F. Grounds," asked a polite deputy sheriff in nearly every office of the Administration building Wednesday. "I have a warrant for his arrest."

Nobody knew Grounds, and after several hours' search the deputy entered the office of Director Skiff, where a clerk asked what he wanted.

"I have a warrant for W. F. Grounds," said the deputy, "but I can't find him."

"Lets see it, said the clerk.

The deputy produced the warrant and the clerk read: "Jesse Biggs, W. F. Grounds."

"You want Jesse Biggs, who is located on the World's Fair grounds," explained the clerk, and then the deputy saw.

Biggs is from Ste. Genevieve, Mo., and is wanted by authorities there.

STRIKING JURORS ORDERED JAILED

Belleville Justice Checkmates Jury Which Withheld Verdict to Force Payment of Fees.

THEN THEY "SIDESTEPPED"

Because Convicted Defendant Had No Money, They Feared Services Would Be Unrequited.

Knowing that the prisoner whom they had just found guilty would be unable to pay his fine and costs, a jury in the trial of a slander case against William Doeckel at Belleville Thursday morning reported to Justice Wangelin: "We have reached a verdict, but we refuse to turn it in until we receive our fees."

"Constable Lautz, take the jury to jail and keep them there till they give up their verdict," ordered the justice.

Then the six men weakened, and their spokesman, F. V. Neve, said:

"We have found the defendant guilty and assess his punishment at $5." Instead of the jury, the defendant then went to jail.

Doeckel was charged with slandering C. C. Williams, a candidate for chief supervisor on the United Labor ticket at Tuesday's election. Doeckel went about the polls calling the candidate names, and Williams was defeated.

UNION OFFICERS SURRENDER

Shea and Rowbotham of International Teamsters Arraigned in Court and Furnished Bond.

Cornelius P. Shea and William Rowbotham, president and secretary of the International Teamsters' Union, arrived in St. Louis Thursday morning from Indianapolis, and at once surrendered themselves to Judge Taylor of the criminal division of the Circuit Court to answer to the charge of being accessories before the fact to assaults committed by Mike Ryan, William Kelley and Ernest Miller.

After pleading not guilty to the indictment, the men were released on bonds of $2,000 each, signed by Maurice Landau. Through S. S. Bass, whom they engaged as their attorney, the men denied all knowledge of the assaults or the importing of the three men named into St. Louis from Chicago to annoy nonunion drivers.

Ryan, Kelley and Miller were arrested for numerous assaults on nonunion drivers, and on their confessions of these crimes and statements that they had been engaged for the work at a high salary, Shea, Rowbotham, George Innis, who was in charge of the strike in St. Louis; Albert Young of Chicago and Daniel Furman of Indianapolis, all officers of the union, were indicted. Innis was arrested at once. It is said that Young and Furman will give themselves up next week, when the dates for the trial will be set.

INQUIRY INTO CORONER'S FEES

Charges Regarding Transcripts Recalled by Order Issued Against Treasurer of Transit Co.

Judge Jesse McDonald Thursday morning issued subpena duces tecum on James Adkins, treasurer of the St. Louis Transit Co., to bring before the grandjury at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning the Transit company's books containing all entries of fees paid by it to the coroner for transcripts of testimony taken by him at inquests of persons killed by the company's cars.

Dr. Frank Boogher and John D. O'Keefe, formerly employed in the coroner's office, stated at the time of their discharge that the coroner furnished the Transit company about 400 transcripts, but turned fees for only about 100 of them into the city treasury.

MEAN E. WAINWRIGHT'S RETURN

Retroactive Clause in French Treaty Delays Its Ratification.

Dispatches from Paris and Washington announce that the ratification of the extradition treaty between the United States and France is being delayed by the investigation of the French department of justice as to the retroactive feature.

Should this feature be decided legal and indorsed, it would mean the early return of Ellis Wainwright, wanted for trial in St. Louis on a charge of bribery, unless he should seek a home elsewhere. It is admitted in Washington that the retroactive clause was inserted in the treaty at the instigation of Circuit Attorney Folk.

POLICEMAN KILLS FIVE-FOOT SNAKE

Skin of Big Copperhead Is Hanging in Police Station for Doubters to Behold.

BATTLE NEAR SCHOOLHOUSE

Bullet Severed Head of Reptile Whose Presence in Neighborhood Menaced Children.

As Policeman Robert McCarthy of the Seventh district was walking his beat, near Chippewa street and Morgan Ford road, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, he saw something crawl out of a clump of woods toward the road. He stopped to watch it and when it was within a few feet of him he saw that it was a large snake.

It was almost time for the dismissal of the Horace Mann School, two blocks away, and as many of the small school children passed that way he realized the immediate danger from the snake.

Keeping a safe distance from the snake, but not letting it out of his view, he sent for Sergeant George Smith. Together they closed up on the reptile, which halted and showed fight. Sergeant Smith then saw that it was a huge copperhead. It was more than five feet long and the circumference of its body was as great as his arm.

Evidently it had just come out of its winter quarters and was hungry and aggressive, for it showed no fear and was very active.

When the sergeant approached cautiously to examine it, the snake crawled toward him, shooting out its scarlet tongue and opening its jaws, apparently full of fight. When it come close enough Smith shot at it, and its head was taken off by a ball from his revolver.

The skin of the snake is on exhibition at the Seventh District Police Station. It is perfect, beautifully marked and very tough, and will be made into a belt for the policeman who shot it.

THUNDERSTORMS AND COLDER

Fair Weather Will Come Friday After Heavy Finale of Rainy Spell, Says Forecaster.

A fair Friday will atone for more showers and thunderstorms tonight. It will be clear and colder tomorrow, with brisk winds blowing tonight.

The forecast: "Showers and thunderstorms tonight, followed by fair Friday. Colder. Fresh to brisk southerly winds, shifting to high northerly winds tonight."

All rivers in the St. Louis district are falling, but at Memphis the Mississippi rose 1.1 feet in the last 24 hours, and was this morning 3.7 above the danger mark.

The storm is central over Kansas, which has caused rains over nearly all the region west of the Mississippi and east of the Rockies, as well as in the lake region, the Ohio valley and the East.

Thunderstorms have prevailed in Oklahoma and Kansas, snow has been falling in North Dakota, it is below freezing in the Dakotas, Wyoming and the plateau region, and the temperature has risen in the Southwest, in Missouri, Kansas and Iowa.

UNITED STATES HAS 70,900,389 PEOPLE

St. Louis, According to the Census Bureau, Has Gone Above the 600,000 Mark.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The census bureau today issued a bulletin which gives the estimated population of the United States for 1903, exclusive of Alaska and the insular possessions of the United States at 79,900,389. This is an increase of 3,[illegible] since the census of 1900. The population is estimated for 438 cities having 10,000 or more inhabitants in 1900.

According to these estimates New York is now a city of 3,716,139 inhabitants; Chicago is rapidly approaching the two million mark, having 1,873,880 inhabitants; Philadelphia has 1,367,716; St. Louis has just passed and Boston has almost reached the 600,000 mark; Baltimore has [illegible]. Cleveland is now a considerable distance ahead of Cincinnati, which cities have [illegible] 950, and 332,934, respectively.

Buffalo also has considerably increased its population, being credited with [illegible] inhabitants. San Francisco and Pittsburg are close competitors, the former having 355,919 and the latter 345,043. Detroit, Milwaukee and New Orleans have just passed 300,000, and Washington is close to that figure.

SEPARATE SEXES AT SEASIDE.

This Is the W. C. T. U. Battle Cry in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The mingling of sexes at public bathing places has been declared by leading members of the W. C. T. U. of New Jersey to be "vile," "revolting" and "corrupt."

These terms were applied during a discussion of the subject in the state convention at Newark. Resolutions were adopted expressing horror at the situation, and it is proposed by the backers of the movement to inaugurate a crusade against the practice at the seaside.

PRESIDENT FOR ROOT IN 1908

Modestly Says That If Elected This Fall He Will Not Ask for Another Term.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Elihu Root is President Roosevelt's candidate for the Republican nomination for President in 1908.

If Col. Roosevelt be elected next fall he will not try for the nomination in 1908, he tells his friends.

He frankly says he considers Root the greatest man in the United States, and has confided to several of his intimates that he intends to drop his mantle on Root's shoulders if he has anything to say about the matter.

LAW'S LIMIT FOR AUTOS.

Two hundred complaints filed against scorching chauffeurs within the last 10 days are responsible for a police movement against unlawful speeding of automobiles in parks and boulevards. The speed limit is eight miles an hour on streets and six miles in the parks.

To avoid arrest it is stated by Capt. McNamee of the mounted district that chauffeurs often hide their license numbers while coursing through parks and run away from mounted policemen, and that in one case he discovered a sharp young automobilist who had a string attached to his number plate so that he could speed past an officer or pedestrian, raise his number and escape detection.

SHE REGAINED PERFECT HEALTH.

(Mrs. Redding Had Suffered With Female Weakness and Nervousness. Pe-ru-na Cured Her.)

MRS. LIZZIE REDDING.

SPRINGTIME IS VERY DEPRESSING TO THOSE SUFFERING WITH PELVIC CATARRH. RID YOURSELF OF CATARRH BEFORE WARM WEATHER SETS IN.

Mrs. Lizzie Redding, 3134B Clifton Place, St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"I found, after trying many different medicines to restore me to health, that Peruna was the only thing which could be depended upon. I began taking it when I was in a decline, induced by female weakness and overwrought nerves. I began to feel stronger during the first week I took Peruna and my health improved daily until now I am in perfect health and enjoy life as I never did before."—Mrs. Lizzie Redding.

WE are in receipt of thousands of letters every spring from women who have suffered from some form of female weakness, but have been cured by Peruna. Many of them have given the doctors a thorough trial. They have taken medicines, submitted to examinations, undergone operations and done everything the doctors wished them to do. In spite of the doctors' advice they at last concluded to give Peruna a trial.

Their decision to use Peruna very frequently occurs in the spring. The reason for this is that springtime is very depressing to this class of sufferers. Women suffering from female difficulties will often get through the winter very well, but when spring lassitude is added to their other ailment, they break down and are obliged to do something to avert a fatal calamity.

It is safe to say that Peruna has cured more cases of this sort and has rescued more people from the sufferings of spring prostration than all other remedies combined.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

THE YALU TO BE THE SCENE OF NEXT BATTLE

Acting Upon This Theory the Russians Look for the Landing of a Force of Japanese in Manchuria Off the Coast of Corea Bay.

EXPECT ATTACK TO COME PROBABLY SUNDAY MORNING

Activity of the Port Arthur Warship Squadron Indicates That the Japanese Fleet Has Been Engaged in Operations at Some Other Point.

BY H. J. WHIGHAM,
Special War Correspondent of the New York World, Post-Dispatch and London Daily Mail.

YINKOW, April 7.—The Russians expect an attack on their positions north of the mouth of the Yalu river, probably Sunday morning.

They have information that the Japanese will land at Takushan, about 55 miles west of the mouth of the Yalu river, on Saturday night under the cover of another bombardment of Port Arthur.

Gen. Kuropatkin says he will have 400,000 men in Manchuria before war begins in earnest.

I had some conversation with one of Kuropatkin's staff during the general's visit, when he gave me a clear hint of the intended line of the Russian defense extending from the Liao river, which empties at New Chwang to the Yalu.

"I think," he said, "we shall hold our chief force concentrated in the center of this line in advance of Liao Yang, the chief weight inclining toward the eastward, where there are many strong positions and giving way on the upper Yalu. Although we withdraw before the Japanese in north Corea, we don't expect them to force a passage across the Yalu, but if they do, we are ready for them, and the northern bank of the Yalu is very strongly entrenched.

"The seizure of Antung upon our side is very probable. The river banks are low and landing would be easy. This points to an attack on the west of the Yalu about Takushan, but we don't fear the enemy there as our positions above are nearly impregnable. We also look for invasion lower down the Liao Tung peninsula aimed at cutting off Port Arthur, but we have a large army there and can constantly reinforce it from above. Our troops are in excellent order, full of enthusiasm and fight."

The press boat of the London Times was overhauled by a Russian warship nearly 20 miles from Port Arthur in the gulf of Pechili, which shows that Makaroff's squadron is far away from being bottled up. It also indicates that the Japanese fleet is operating in some other quarter.

The Russian headquarters is in receipt of information that the Japanese supply steamers are entering the estuary of the Yalu river and are landing their cargoes at various points on the Corean shore. It is presumed here that the movement of these supply steamers is covered by Japanese gunboats. If this is true, the Russian forts erected upon the Chinese side of the Yalu river are evidently not effective.

The Yalu is four to five miles wide at Antung, where the Russians are strongly intrenched.

The expectation is that if the Japanese land at Takushan, they will at the same time attempt the crossing of the Yalu.

JAPANESE TELL OF ATTEMPTED BLOCKADE OF PORT ARTHUR.

LONDON, April 7.—The Express correspondent at Kobe telegraphs:

"Some of the men who took part in the daring attempt to block the entrance to Port Arthur on March 27 have arrived at Sasebo. From them I heard a standing story of the gallant deed. Lieut. Masaki who commanded the "sinker" Yoneyama Maru, when at his post on the bridge and just entering the roadstead was struck on the ear by a splinter from a shell. All undaunted, he held on and met the Russian destroyer steaming straight for the Yoneyama. Masaki made no effort to avoid her, but, on the contrary, attempted with desperate gallantry to run her down.

"But the destroyer manouvered skillfully and escaped, at the same time leading the Yonemaya Maru out of her course and away from the entrance to the harbor. The forts on Golden Hill opened fire on the doomed merchantman while the men on board got ready to blow her up when she reached the desired position.

"At this moment Lieut. Shimada was hit by a shell and fell desperately wounded. Masaki, with blood streaming from his shattered face, proceeded to anchor. Then a Russian shell hit the funnel, smashing it to pieces. Masaki was struck again by a splinter in the shoulder, but manfully held to his command. Everything was now ready for blowing up the vessel. The crew took to the boats, Masaki being the last to leave. They were clear away when the intrepid commander decided to recover the supposed corpse of Shimada. He returned to the Yonemaya Maru and found his comrade still living. Amid shouts of encouragement he placed the wounded man in a small boat, and, rowing with his uninjured arm, with Shimada's head resting on his knee, succeeded in regaining the other boats. A few minutes later the Yonemaya Maru blew up while the Japanese sang their war song. This closing nearly proval their undoing, for guided by the sound, the Russians discovered the whereabouts of the boats and opened in a volley of shot and shell.

"The [illegible] escaped unhurt and [illegible] successfully keeping out of the beams of the Russian searchlights drifted about until, guided by their war song, a Japanese torpedo boat picked them up."

THE CZAR STOPS BOYCOTT ON AMERICAN MERCHANTS.

Special Cable to the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1904, by the Press Publishing Co.)

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—An utterance made by the Czar is circulated which is likely to stop entirely the agitation against America. When informed of the resolve of eight Russian merchants to boycott American merchants, he said the following words: "Such a policy would be the expression of a mistaken patriotism. The great American nation cannot seriously think of befriending Japan at the expense of peace-loving Russia. Attacks upon Russia published in the American papers cannot and must not be regarded as expressing the will of the American people."

Another criminal plot was discovered a few days ago on the Siberian Railway having for its object the derailing of a passenger train from Tomsk. Shortly after the arrival of the train, which carried 1000 passengers, a signal man found a heavy iron rail lying across the track. At that moment a shot was fired from the forest which shattered his right hand.

The rumbling of the train was already audible. The signal man ran and succeeded in stopping it at the last minute. It is obvious that the Russians cannot guard the railway with sufficient care, as fresh attempts to derail trains are of continual occurrence.

Owing to the clumsiness of a workman employed in the tunneling operations on the railway around Lake Baikal a dynamite cartridge exploded prematurely, killing 19 workmen. As most of the men are on strike, the corpses, some torn to pieces, have been lying several days in the tunnel as a prey for wolves, no one being there to bury them.

The scheme for effecting retrenchments in the state expenditure, in consequence of the war, recently drawn up at a special conference presided over by Count Solsky (the president of the department of state economics), and sanctioned by the Emperor, was gazetted today. It is proposed to devote the "free balance" in the imperial treasury to war purposes and to increase the funds in the treasury by economics in the budget of 1904, especially in the civil estimates.

The reductions, which will be made on the principle of creating as little disturbance as possible in public business and private interests, will total $67,189,553, of which upward of $57,709,000 falls upon the budget of 1904. The reduction falls the heaviest on the railroad department, which loses altogether $36,000,000, including $25,000,000 for new roads. The foreign office loses $576,352, of which $216,747 was for the purchase of an embassy building at Washington. The liquor monopoly effects an economy of $8,500,000, mostly by canceling the indemnity to liquor dealers.

SANE MAN HELD FOR "INSANITY"

and, immdiately afterward, a detective went out and placed him under arrest as a lunatic. Nush was taken to a police station, where he was detained, he says, from 1 o'clock in the afternoon until 8 in the evening.

He was examined as to his sanity by Drs. F. P. Vale and C. C. Marbury, who reported that he was sane and he was accordingly released.

The reason why he has kept the story dark, as given by his relatives, is that he did not wish his wife and son to know of his arrest.

Dr. Vale and Dr. Marbury, when asked about it, would not admit anything except that they had examined the man. Dr. Vale said:

"As the man was dismissed, that ends the matter, doesn't it?"

AT ALL DRUGSTORES.

Scruggs Vandervoort & Barney

The Climax of our assortments of Spring merchandise is reached in these early days of April. We wish to emphasize the correctness of our styles in fabrics and trimmings, also of our ready-to-wear garments for Women and Children. This point directly appeals to all women at this time. It is a quality of value to which price is a secondary feature here. In looking backward our patrons more easily realize how fully this store's merchandise satisfies; that our prices are in keeping with the goods; that to lower the price would necessitate a curtailment of quality.

More New Shirt-Waist Suits

Neatness brought to an attractive degree of style is a good definition of the charm of these new Silk and Mohair Shirt-Waist Suits. They are so different from any previously shown and the prices so moderate that they are very refreshing and within the reach of the most modest purse.

AT $15.00—Shirt-Waist Suit of mohair, tucked blouse, with kilt skirt, in blue and black.

AT $20.00—Shirt-Waist Suit of changeable taffetas, blouse style, side plaited, trimmed in Dresden buttons; in navy, red and golden brown.

AT $25.00—Hairline Taffeta Shirt-Waist Suit, blouse style, side plaited skirt, in blue and white and black and white.

AT $27.50—Shirt-Waist Suits of all black taffetas and check taffetas, in black and white and blue and white; blouse style, with yoke trimmed in pearl buttons; full skirt finished with three folds around bottom of skirt.

$37.50 TO $57.50—Shirt-Waist Suits in natural color and colored Shantung and Pongee; Havana brown, new blue, also a few broken checks; all new, original effects.

Covert Jackets—Silk Blouses

While the Silk Blouse makes the greatest show as long as the weather will permit, the natty Covert Jacket will be the greatest favorite for general wear. Coming cool evenings argue in their favor, and nothing is nicer for now. If you buy here you are assured the most approved styles.

Tan Covert Cloth Jackets, handsomely tailored, coat collar, flare sleeve, taffetas lined; special value at $12.50

Genuine English Covert Jackets, made in all lengths to suit the individual—new models, nicely tailored and lined ..... $12.50 to $35.00

Collarless Covert Jackets with tailor strap seams, full pouch sleeves, taffetas lined, for $18.75

Silk Etons, three-quarter and full length Ulsters, in taffetas, pongee, gloria and Shantung, plain tailor effects; effectively trimmed in silk braids and laces ..... $25.00 to $100.00

Odd Lot of Silk Waists, $2.98

We bought a lot of Black Taffetas Silk Shirt Waists—several hundred of them—much under value. Ordinarily they would sell for $5.00 or $5.50; we sold all but about fifty at $3.95. All that are left will sell tomorrow at $2.98

Women's Spring Undermuslins

Assortments have been entirely reorganized — new values have been added which will surprise you. The styles and materials are as they should be, much prettier. The care with which our garments are made makes home-sewing unnecessary, and our low prices leave nothing to be gained.

Gowns

50c to $25.

AT 50c—Of cambric, high and V neck, yoke of hemstitching and tucks; hemstitched ruffles.

AT $1.00—Fifteen different styles, including muslin, cambric, long cloth and nainsook; high, V and square necks and slipover effects; the largest assortment ever shown by us at this price.

AT $2.25 TO $4.50—Special lot of Gowns made exclusively for us from best qualities of cambric and nainsook; high and square necks and slipover effects; extra long and full three yards wide; exquisite for their goodness and simplicity.

Chemises

50c to $16.50.

AT $1.50 TO $3.75—Combination Chemise, Corset Cover and Knee Skirt combined; drawn at waist line with ribbon; large assortment of attractive styles.

Corset Covers

39c to $13.50.

AT 50c—Five pleasing styles; tight fitting and full French styles; embroidery and lace trimmed.

Petticoats

75c to $25.00.

AT $2.95, $3.45 AND $4.50—Three exceptional values made exclusively for us; bought at very low prices; trimmings of blind and open embroidery; very full tucked umbrella ruffles; underlay with scalloped foot ruffles.

Drawers

25c to $16.50.

AT 25c—Of cambric with hemstitched umbrella ruffle.

"NOW LET BRYAN COME OUT FOR JUDGE PARKER"

Eastern Democrats Demand That the Nebraskan Follow Cleveland's Example and Thus Insure the Reunion of All Discordant Elements. ments.

EX-PRESIDENT'S INDORSEMENT RESENTED IN SOME SECTIONS

Bryan's Friends in South and Northwest Say He Should Have Kept Still, but Belief Is General Effect Will Be Good.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—"Now let Bryan come out as Cleveland has done, and we will all be together again," the eastern Democrats in Congress said after reading the exclusive statement of Mr. Cleveland as given to the New York World and the Post-Dispatch, in which Mr. Cleveland indorsed Judge Parker of New York for the Democratic nomination.

Two views of the statement are taken in Congress.

Some of the southern and northwestern Democrats, hating Cleveland, were of the opinion that the indorsement would do Parker more harm than good.

The Democrats in the East were enthusiastic and were inclined to laugh at the fears of the southerners, as no Republican can carry the South in any event and as it is unlikely a Democrat can carry such states as Nebraska and Minnesota.

The situation in the South is, according to the Democratic members of the House, "anything to beat Roosevelt," and they are particularly well pleased that the independent voters of the Northeast and East are disposed to support Judge Parker.

They appreciate the necessity of having this support for any candidate who is to win in the coming election, and, despite the assertions of the members of the House from that section, will heartily support Judge Parker.

Eastern Democrats believe Mr. Cleveland's indorsement will have a tendency to crystallize sentiment on Judge Parker and will result in stopping the wildcat booms which have been started throughout the country.

Many of the Democratic members of the House say an ideal ticket, geographically, would be Judge Parker and Representative John R. Williams of Illinois, who will have a solid delegation from that state instructed to vote for him for the presidential nomination.

They appreciate that without New York and Illinois or Indiana there is no chance of winning, and they hope the candidate for vice-president will be selected with this view in mind.

Little attempt is made by senators from the South to disguise the fact that Mr. Cleveland has many enemies among the Democrats of that section of the country, and they resent any interference or participation by Mr. Cleveland in national politics.

It is pointed out these men compose the Bryan following of radical Democrats and Populists who bolted Mr. Cleveland's leadership in 1896, when the fight was in progress in Congress over the purchasing clause of the Sherman act. As an instance of the strength of this class of voters, Senator Blackburn estimates that they number close to 50,000 in the state of Kentucky.

It is among these men that Democratic senators count that Mr. Cleveland's statement will be resented.

They feel confident, however, that, notwithstanding this condition, Judge Parker's strength among the people is of such volume as to counteract this alleged influence against his prospects.

They openly assert that Mr. Cleveland, or any other man, will not be able to disturb Parker sentiment, and that the South will remain loyal to him, notwithstanding the fact that some may be inclined to picture him as "Mr. Cleveland's candidate."

All this taken into consideration, however, it was conceded among southern Democrats, with one or two exceptions, that it would have been more politic for Mr. Cleveland to have remained silent until after the nomination had been effected.

The Democratic leaders of the Senate have all along understood that Mr. Cleveland favored Judge Parker's nomination.

BRYAN ATTACKS PARKER IN THIS WEEK'S COMMONER.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 7.—In tomorrow's issue of his paper, Mr. Bryan will say, anent the Parker boom:

"Mr. Hill has made himself a champion of Mr. Parker in New York, and it is not likely that he would do this without having an understanding with Mr. Parker as to his own position with the administration. It can be safely taken for granted that, in case of Judge Parker's nomination and election,

"Mr. Hill would be the controlling figure in the administration, and that would mean that those who attempted to reach the White house would have to walk through peanut shells knee deep.

"Mr. Hill stands for everything bad that Mr. Cleveland stands for, and lacks the brutal frankness that has given Mr. Cleveland most of his popularity.

"But Mr. Hill's support, dangerous as it is, is not so detrimental to Judge Parker as the corporate support which is gradually gathering about him. The fact that Mr. Parker is an enigma ought to remove him from consideration, and the situation is made still worse by the blight of Mr. Hill's record. If Mr. Parker is nominated it must not be as a harmony candidate—it must be with the knowledge that he represents the same element, the same influence and the same methods which, during Mr. Cleveland's second administration, led the Democratic party through the valley of the shadow of death."

Court Officials Aid Washburn.

Justice James H. Cronin has written a letter to the police of Terre Haute, Ind., in behalf of George Washburn, who formerly made a living by singing in St. Louis saloons, and whose wife still keeps a rooming house at 2025 Pine street. Washburn is held there on the charge of homicide. Similar letters are said to have been received in Terre Haute from other St. Louis court officials, written at the instance of Washburn's friends.

TWO MEN SHOT IN BATTLE WITH THIEF

Exciting Chase After Man Who Snatched Woman's Pocketbook in a New York Street.

NEW YORK, April 7.—In an exciting chase of a robber who had snatched a woman's pocketbook at Thirty-second street and Second avenue, two men were shot, one probably fatally shot, and a large crowd which gathered after the thief was captured made a demonstration as if they would kill him.

The man, who gave his name as John Kenny, grabbed the woman's pocketbook and knocked her down when she struggled to retain it. He then tried to escape on a moving car. Joseph Corn overtook Kenny at the corner of Third avenue and Thirty-fourth street and clinched with him. In the struggle Kenny fired two shots, one striking Corn in the arm and the other in the abdomen. Kenney then ran.

E. B. Johnson of Woodside, L. I., next overtook the fleeing man and jumped on his back, carrying him to the ground with Johnson on top. Kenny still held the revolver in his hand, and pressed its muzzle close against Johnson's face and fired. The bullet passed through Johnson's jaw. Before Kenny could fire again, a policeman grasped the revolver. By this time several hundred persons had gathered around the struggling man and cried loudly that he be lynched. Other policemen appeare, and Kenny, who was bleeding from a blow on the head, was hurriedly taken to the police station.

BARE COINS LOST BY POOR WIDOW

Neighbors, in Joking Spirit, Left Bag of Scrapiron at Her Door and Trouble Followed.

Mrs. Mary Talley of 6813 South Broadway is employing every means at her command to recover a sack of 43 rare and valuable coins, which she has carried on her person for eight years while doing housework.

The coins are valued by Mrs. Talley not because of possible worth in money or their rareness which would appeal to numismatists, but because they were heirlooms.

While unable to describe the coins by dates and mintage, Mrs. Talley is confident that she could identify the collection by the general appearance, and by a number of French and English coins of striking design.

Monday, while on her way downtown she placed the coins in her shopping bag and was well on her way home, when she discovered that they had been lost.

She told her neighbors of her misfortune, and several of them planned a joke on Mrs. Talley, by filling a sack similar to the one that contained the treasures with iron chippings and placing them on her door step.

Mrs. Talley's disappointment when she learned she was the victim of what she considered a growsome joke, led to a quarrel between herself and daughter Hettie and Mrs. Ida Voitlein, her nearest neighbor.

Mrs. Voitlein secured a police court summons for Mrs. Talley in the Wyoming street police court Thursday morning and the case will be heard April 19.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS

142 West Fifty-ninth Street,
CHICAGO, ILL., September 20, 1903.

Being the mother of ten children and having taken Wine of Cardui for a good many years while my children were being born, I feel that I can speak with authority as to its merits. When I first married my health was not all that I could wish and I began taking Wine of Cardui before my first baby was born. It acted so well that a few months before each child was born I took Wine of Cardui and for a couple of months after the birth and it always relieved the pains and restored me to good health. I am enjoying splendid health today and I feel that it is all due to Wine of Cardui.

Susana Merkle

WINE OF CARDUI

Many women's lives are unhappy on account of the dread of the dangers of childbirth, especially if they have been afflicted with menstrual irregularities or bearing down pains. Wine of Cardui relieves these troubles permanently and gives a woman health, and a perfectly healthy woman has nothing to fear from bearing children. Wine of Cardui prepares a mother for an easy and natural delivery and a quick recovery.

Thedford's Black-Draught, the companion medicine of Wine of Cardui, relieves the patient of stomach troubles and constipation which are so common during pregnancy. No expectant mother should neglect to take Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black Draught.

MAIL ROBBER BELL AGAIN IN CUSTODY

After Being Arrested in Tacoma, He Jumps Over a Sixty-Foot Embankment.

RECAPTURED AFTER A CHASE

Story of the Extraordinary Raids on Mail Bags and of His Recent Escape.

TACOMA, Wash., April 7.—Albert E. Bell, the alleged mail pouch robber, accused of crimes in many states and who escaped from two United States marshals near Philadelphia, last October by jumping from a moving train is under arrest here.

He made a daring break for liberty by jumping off a 60-foot embankment, was recaptured and finally landed safely in jail. When searched a number of letters, all addressed to Portland (Ore.) merchants from points along the Seattle & International Railroad in this state and British Columbia were found in his possession, all containing checks or money orders. When closely questioned, Bell said he and his companion had stolen a mail pouch from a truck in front of the Seattle depot last Sunday morning and had secured $1700 in checks and money orders, $700 of which they had converted into cash.

The police had received telegraphic communication that Bell was in this city, and placed him under arrest. He submitted peaceably, but when just in front of the jail he broke away, and jumped over the embankment, landing in the railroad yards below. The police boarded a street car and hurried to the foot of the incline to head off Bell, and, after a hunt among the hundreds of cars, the officers, assisted by 50 other men, finally caught him and took him to jail.

Bell's Extraordinary Criminal Record.

Bell is one of the most noted forgers and mailpouch thieves with which the authorities have ever had to deal. As a result of his operations he has, it is estimated, secured nearly $1,000,000. He was arrested in Denver on Oct. 2 by the secret service officers at St. Anthony's Hospital, where he had undergone an operation. On Oct. 16 he was started to Philadelphia for a robbery in which $500,000 was procured. He left Denver in charge of Deputy United States Marshals Baker and Davis. On Oct. 19 the party arrived at Philadelphia. As Bell's guards went into the toilet room, Bell picked up his valise and left the car, unnoticed by anyone, and disappeared in the crowd.

Bell had many aliases, among them being J. H. Hamilton, A. E. Hammond, J. A. Miller, F. H. Crosby and George Murray. When arrested at St. Anthony's Hospital his wife, who gave the name of Sharpe, was at his bedside, and was also taken into custody. Bell was charged by the postal authorities with robbing the mails, and also by the American Bankers' Association with having raised and cashed checks and drafts secured from the stolen mail pouches. The specific charge upon which the arrest was originally made was the stealing of a mail pouch containing $500,000 worth of negotiable paper at Philadelphia on the night of Sept. 8.

Hobnobbed With Bankers and Brokers.

Bell later admitted having arrived in this country from Crowe, England, last summer and enjoyed himself at Asbury Park, N. J., posing as a wealthy fruit speculator, and, through the Sharpe woman, obtained entrance to the best of society, making the acquaintance of brokers, bankers and wealthy business men of many cities and numerous large interests.

Soon after making these financial acquaintances Bell began to deposit different sums with his banker friends and, on Sept. 10, deposited several checks payable to his order, drawn on different Philadelphia banks. Two days later he closed his accounts and withdrew the amounts due him. These checks were the doctored contents of stolen mail pouches.

Bell was also accused of having been implicated in the theft of a pouch at Springfield Junction, Ill., in April of last year and shortly after a man, believed to have been Bell, opened an account with the Lincoln Trust Co. in St. Louis and not long after drew out $2500 on the account.

How He "Conned" a Chicago Cashier.

According to the criminal records Bell once served a five years' sentence in the Auburn, N. Y., state prison for stealing a mail pouch from the New York Central depot in Buffalo and tampering with the negotiable paper inclosed.

Just before leaving Denver Bell made what purported to be a complete confession of his operations. He admitted having gone into one of Chicago's largest and most influential banks and, after a half hour's talk with the cashier, persuaded him to give a practically carte blanche letter of credit without the deposit of even a single penny.

At the time of Bell's arrest local detectives had this to say of his record:

"It was in 1894 that Bell was arrested in New York while endeavoring to cash a stolen draft for $1200, and he went to the Elmira reformatory on April 19. He was released seven months later, but on April 16, 1899, was again arrested in New York while trying to cash a $425 draft. This was one of the drafts taken from the pouch stolen at Buffalo. Bell admitted when he stole the pouch he was disguised as a railroad employe. Bell also served three years in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City for the theft of a mail pouch at Kansas City.

FAIR COMMISSIONER ROBBED.

Wm. Buller of Cora, Pa., Has No Recollection of Being Approached.

William Buller of Cora, Pa., superintendent of the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to the World's Fair, reported to the police at Union Station Thursday morning at 3 o'clock that he had been robbed in some mysterious manner earlier in the night.

His purse and a jewel case, both empty, had contained, he said, $50 and a diamond stud. Mr. Buller did not mind the loss of the money, saying he could get more, but he did regret the loss of the diamond.

He has no recollection of being approached by pickpockets or robbers.

CARNIVAL OF SONG AND DANCE FOR THE FRESH AIR CHILDREN

Another Successful Performance Given at the Odeon Tuesday Evening—Final Presentation Saturday Afternoon.

There was music and song and dance at the second presentation of the carnival for the benefit of the Fresh Air Mission at the Odeon Tuesday evening. Even the successful performance of Monday was surpassed.

There was much congratulation for the officers of the Fresh Air Mission and their helping friends and for Mr. E. L. Coates, who managed the carnival.

The opening tableau "The Queen's Reception," former a stage picture that attracted much favorable comment. At this reception Miss Alice Rochstein was Goddess of Liberty.

The "Coronation of Titania," adapted from "A Midsummer Night's Dream," was sung and danced by young women and children garbed as butterflies and fairies. With silver spray shining from their costumes the participants danced to and fro under the bright lights among children dressed to represent flowers.

Miss Frances Paquin was Titania and Master Tom Mulvihill was Oberon.

Master Clay Donucker was Prince Apparent; Miss Hazel Smith, Morial; Baby Briscoe, Buttercup.

Mrs. Genevieve Fender taught and arranged the cast in the "Coronation of Titania."

The "Lovers' Quarrel Gavotte," a violin selection from "Tannhauser," was given. Mr. Herbert Stein served as director for this act and Mr. William Hellmich as pianist.

"A Night in Japan," adapted from "The Mikado," was received with even more enthusiasm than on Monday night

The sweet singing of the Japanese girls and their escorts, the courtiers of Japan, was deserving of praise Their Oriental costumes gave interest to their act. Mr. R. L. Lynwood sang the part of the Mikado. His royal courtiers were Messrs. Roland, Maes and Edward Brungard.

In "La Carmencita," adapted from "Carmen," there was more good work.

Mrs. Ida Fitzhugh Shepard sang the part of Carmencita, Mr. Lynwood was Escamilio, Miss Katherine Lauder, Miscaela, and Mr. George Westlain Davis, Don Jose.

"The Last of the Vestals, or the Dawn of Christianity," was an appropriate selection for Easter week. It showed the coming of Christianity to the people who had for years believed in many gods.

Mrs. G. Dieckmann was Vesta, goddess of fire; Mrs. Genevieve Fender the High Priestess, Miss Marie Dierks the Temple Singer, Mr. Lynwood the High Priest.

The scenes in this act were made by the Garland Girls, the Vestal Virgins, the White Nuns, the Temple Choir and the Arian Monks.

"The Gypsy Queen" from "The Bohemian Girl" formed the seventh act. The Bohemian tribe was made up of 60 members of the St. Louis School of Opera.

The representation closed with "Pocahontas and the Rescue of Capt. John Smith."

Miss Julia Beck was Pocahontas; Mr. George Dieckmann, Powhatan; Mr. Frank Smith, John Smith; Mr. Paul Dieckmann, the rejected lover.

The full program will be repeated Saturday afternoon at the Odeon.

The Archeological Society in Constantinople has already obtained the Sultan's permission to begin excavations at Ephesus.

SHOCKED AT HER DOG'S DEATH.

Planters' Hotel Guests Startled at the Grief of Mrs. S. E. Allen.

Guests at the Planters' Hotel Wednesday afternoon were startled to see a stylishly dressed woman suddenly crumple a telegram in her hands, and almost collapse with apparent grief.

To those who crowded around to offer sympathy or assistance, she explained: "Yeddo, my favorite dog, is dead. He was such a dear little fellow at St. Charles. I left him with my maid and he had an abscess on his neck. If I only had remained at home he would have lived—I know he would."

Then the grief-stricken woman, who was Mrs. S. E. Allen of New York, went to her room where a few hours later she was too overcome to tell.

Will Sing Old School Songs.

A performance of "Ye Olde Deestrick Skule" will be given Thursday evening at Y. M. C. A. hall, 1907 St. Louis avenue, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Elmbank Avenue German M. E. Church, for the benefit of the building fund. A large number of young people will take part. Rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks. Old-fashioned costumes will be worn and old songs will be sung.

Skeleton Key Admits Robbers.

Burglars with a skeleton key entered the room of James Irwin at 1411 Olive street some time Wednesday night and took his suitcase, containing clothing and traveling necessities, which he valued at $150.

Iron Falls on Laborer.

Frank Maybee, 25 years old, of 1221 North Eleventh street, employed at the Niedringhaus mills at Second and Destrehan streets, was severely injured there early Thursday morning. A quantity of sheet iron fell on his right leg and side.

Soiled and Mussed Waists at Less than Half Price

THE great pre-Easter crowds soiled and mussed a considerable quantity of our Waists. They are not damaged in any way except that they were handled by hundreds of people. In addition we have a lot of odds and ends that are in better condition. They will all be placed on sale Friday at extremely low prices.

50c is the price we have placed on a lot of White Wash Waists that were formerly marked at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50—they are made of lawns, madras and Oxford cloths—are quite badly soiled—a good line of sizes.

95c is the price we have placed on a lot of Waists that sold for $1.98 and $2.50—made of white washable materials—lawns, vestings and madras cloths—most of them are soiled and mussed—the odds and ends are quite clean.

$1.50 is the price we have placed on a lot of Silk Waists that were marked $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00—they are soiled and mussed, but can be cleaned for a trifling amount—the materials are fine taffetas and peau de soies—many colors and white—the styles are excellent.

$2.98 is the price we have placed on a lot of high-class Linen Waists that sold for $5.00, $6.00 and $7.50. These are exceptional values—made of high-class butcher and handkerchief linens—many with Mexican hand-drawnwork or hand-embroidered fronts—only one or two of a style—soiled and mussed.

$3.50 is the price we have placed on a lot of Black Peau de Soie Waists—good quality—new yoke and pleated style—fitted lining—all perfect and in good condition—complete line of sizes—$5.00 values.

"ALL OUT, THIS CAR TURNS IN"

Director of Inside Transportation Scullin at the World's Fair Does a Football Rush.

PASSENGERS WERE DUMPED

Delmar Avenue Cars Have an Annoying Habit of "Turning In" at De Balivere Sheds.

John Scullin, director of inside transportation at the World's Fair, former owner of the Union Depot street railway lines, and a heavy stockholder in the St. Louis Transit Co., was one of the victims Wednesday evening, of the Transit company's arbitrary rule of "turning in" cars at the end of specified runs, regardless of the fact that large numbers of passengers are waiting to use the cars.

Mr. Scullin was in the group of administration employes and officials waiting at the Transit company loop near the Administration building at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening for a Delmar avenue car to take them downtown.

Two cars whizzed by without stopping, the motorman yelling as he passed the group, "We're going to turn in."

The third car was forced to slow up to allow two passengers to alight, and Mr. Scullin and those waiting with him made a rush for it. Mr. Scullin and a dozen others scrambled aboard before the car had resumed full speed.

The conductor was aggrieved. "We're going to turn in," he said, excitedly.

"All right," said the passengers, "but we'll go as far as you go, and will be a mile closer home, anyhow."

They rode to the DeBalivere sheds and were there forced to get out. They were only four miles from Broadway, and could have walked downtown if they had wanted to do so, but they waited for an eastbound Olive "through" car. It came after awhile.

The case was not an isolated one. It is the custom, according to World's Fair employes, for most of the cars to begin to "turn in" just at the time when the Administration building officials and their clerks are ready to go home.

Waits of from 15 minutes to an hour are common on this account, but as far as known Mr. Scullin's experience Wednesday evening was the first instance of a prominent World's Fair official and Transit company stockholder being a victim.

SING DOROTHY FOR CHARITY.

Sick and Crippled Children Will Profit by Odeon Performance.

The opera "Dorothy," for the benefit of the Missouri Sunshine Juniors promises to be one of the most interesting amusements of the week. It will be presented by the Gilbert Opera Company under the direction of Prof. C. T. Wippern, at the Odeon Friday evening. The leading artists of the Gilbert Opera Company are well-known as they have played with the Bostonian and the Castle Square Opera Companies.

This opera is given to form a fund to send poor, sick and crippled children to the country.

The cast of characters is as follows:

MRS. ROY ATWOOD, THE BRIDE ON WHOM JOKE WAS PLAYED

CRUEL JOKE ON BRIDAL COUPLE

Huge Posters in Union Station Drew Thousands Who Cheered Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atwood as They Departed.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atwood, southbound on a Louisville & Nashville train on their honeymoon, realized this morning that they were the victims of the cruelest joke ever played on a bridal pair.

It was bad enough when they reached Union Station last night and discovered that the station midway had been strewn with huge posters announcing their coming, and three carloads of Jefferson Barracks soldiers, bound for Hampton Roads, lined up and gave them three rousing cheers, while the thousands of others in the station looked on and either said things or grinned.

But they did not imagine the enormity of the joke until today, they found that similar posters had been sent to every station along the line of the road from St. Louis to Memphis, and that cheering and grinning crowds were present to speed them on their way.

The poster is a big one, 8 by 14 inches, in the regular verbal and typographic form of the announcement of an excursion rate. It reads:

L. & N. TRAIN, APRIL 6, 8:45 P. M.
Mr. Atwood and Miss Isabelle Sinclair were married at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. A. Garvey, 5236A McPherson avenue, by Rev. William J. McKittrick.

Miss Charlotte Garvey of Memphis, Tenn., was maid of honor and Fred Atwood of Carroll, Ill., brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman. Mr. and Mrs. Atwood will spend a week in New Orleans and Atlanta and will visit a week at the home of his parents in Pine Bluff, Ark., before returning to St. Louis.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Phil Atwood of Pine Bluff, Ark., Mrs. Horton of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. George Garvey of Memphis, Tenn.

Mr. Atwood is contracting agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad. He and his bride are bound for New Orleans, where they will visit for two weeks.

SEANCES AT $10 OR 10 CENTS A "SEE"

Witness in Divorce Suit Testified That Mrs. Alford, Seeress, Took What She Could Get.

There were enough spiritualists in Division No. 2 of the Circuit Court Thursday to have formed a first-class circle.

They were there to testify in the divorce case of William H. Alford against Mrs. Alford.

The defendant is alleged by her husband to be a clairvoyant, who has powers in the line of finding lost articles, reuniting separated couples and so on.

Mrs. S. Kunsmueller of 4245 Gano avenue was an animated witness. She told of Mrs. Alford's method in giving tests.

"How much did Mrs. Alford charge?" asked Mr. Alford's attorney.

"She didn't charge anything. She took what was given her."

"If 10 cents was offered she took it, and if $10 was offered she took it, is that right?"

"If $10 was offered she would have been very foolish not to take it."

This appealed strongly to Mrs. Alford's sense of humor. She laughed aloud and had to be rapped to order.

Mrs. Hirdler, another witness, of rather diminutive proportions, had her ire aroused by the questions of Attorney Rollins, who is conspicuously large, and her attitude for a few moments was quite menacing.

"I'm a lady," she said, "if you are a lawyer."

"You want a fuss, don't you?" said the attorney.

The witness looked the ponderous lawyer over and decided that she did not want a "fuss," but she glared at him as she passed him and continued to mutter after she resumed her seat until she was called to order.

Attention, Travelers.

ONE INCH BETWEEN TRAIN AND STREET

Terminal Freight Leaves Elevated Track on Levee and Narrowly Avoids Leaving Structure.

An outbound Terminal freight train which jumped the elevated track on the levee front, 200 feet south of Eads bridge, Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, lacked just one inch of being precipitated to the levee below.

Some $2000 damage was done, the train crew barely escaped with their lives, and the tracks were blockaded two hours.

The engine and six cars left the rails and ran some distance along the ties.

Ladies, try an oyster lunch while shopping. Milford's, 207 and 209 North Sixth st.

Could Not Stay Sober.

Joe Haas of Belleville was arrested by Officer Phillips yesterday one hour after he had been given a new suit of clothes, a new shirt, a new pair of shoes and other articles of wearing apparel by the officer who made the arrest. Two weeks ago Officer Phillips told him that if he remained sober for a fortnight he should be rewarded with a new suit of clothing. Haas remained sober for the alloted time, but no sooner was he arrayed in his new garments than he became intoxicated.

SWARM OF LOCUSTS LIKE A SNOWSTORM

East Africa Ravaged by Plague That Breaks Trees and Destroys All Vegetation.

BERLIN, April 7.—Swarms of locusts have devastated the valleys of Usumbara, in German East Africa. They were first noticed coming from Wombo Feb. 22.

It is semi-officially stated that the most terrible snowstorm would not give any idea of the numbers of the locusts. The trees on which they settle have been broken down and banana and mulberry trees have been stripped, even the bark of the mulberry trees being eaten.

Scarcely a green blade or leaf has been left in the forests or on the farms except in the case of coffee plants, which the locusts tried but disliked.

Belleville Man Missing.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of W. Milligan of 105 North High street, Belleville. Milligan was last seen by his friends when he boarded a car en route for St. Louis Saturday evening. Before leaving he stated that he would return the same evening. Nothing has been seen or heard of him since.

LOSE MILLIONS THEN ARBITRATE

15,000 Gotham Building Workers Have a Disastrous Experience With Strike.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Bricklayers and laborers, who returned to their work in New York today after a strike of five weeks' duration, are estimated to have sacrificed wages aggregating one and one-half million dollars.

Nearly 15,000 workmen were involved and the whole trouble is still to be settled by arbitration, pending which the men will not be asked to work overtime.

There was much joy among the workers over the end of the strike, as fears had been growing of another disastrous season in the building trades like that of 1903.

Large builders now express the belief that this will be the busiest season in the city's history.

Travis Wins Brilliant Match.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 7.—Brilliant golf was the special feature of the qualification of the United States North and South amateur championship tournament played here. Walter J. Travis, amateur champion, won the gold medal offered for the best gross score, with a card of 78, leading Sterling Beckwith of Cleveland, O., the winner of last year's championship, and T. G. Stevenson of the Brooklyn Country Club of Massachusetts only two strokes.

SICK WOMAN FAINTS ON CAR.

Knew She Was Not Able, but Felt She Must Report for Work.

Mrs. Callie Capiteau a widow of 26½ North Garrison avenue fainted on a Page avenue car, east of Jefferson avenue, at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning. She was carried into a drug store at Eighteenth street and Washington avenue by the conductor, Edward Tomlincon, assisted by passengers.

She was partially revived there, and Policeman Ward accompanied her to the City Hospital in an ambulance.

She said she had been sick all night, and was not able Thursday morning to go to her place of employment, in a wholesale millinery house at Ninth street and Washington avenue, but felt that she must. She is 40 years old and a woman of refinement.

Took Fatal Dose in Hayloft.

John Schellinger aged 40, died Thursday morning at the City Hospital from a dose of rough-on-rats taken in the hayloft of the Belmont stable, at 2120 Washington avenue, where he was employed. Foreman John Smith found him unconscious.

FALL MAKES ILLNESS FATAL.

The funeral of Richard C. Weirick, for many years a partner in the wholesale grocery firm of Scudder & Weirick, was held from the residence of his niece, Mrs. Jennie Robins Morris, 5244 Kensington avenue, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mr. Weirick, who was 85 years of age, was taken ill with pneumonia three weeks ago. Saturday while in a delirium, he arose from his bed at his boarding house at Grand avenue and Olive streets and fell, sustaining a fracture of the hip. He was at once removed to the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, where he died Tuesday morning. He had spent most of his life in St. Louis and was formerly connected with the river trade. His widow is seriously ill with pneumonia.

PLANS DEPEND ON PRICES.

Church Will Defer Building If Bids Are Too High.

Plans for doubling the seating capacity of the Third Baptist Church will be carried to completion at once, provided contractors do not make their charges for the new auditorium too high.

The new part of the structure will be erected in the place of the present auditorium and will seat 1700 persons, doubling the present capacity. Pastor Williamson says the plans will be carried out unless the bids opened Wednesday indicate that the contractors are seeking "World's Fair" prices.

"MAYOR'S DUTY TO CLOSE SALOONS"

Debaters Convince Judges That Public Approval Does Not Justify Official's Course.

Mayor Silas Cook was declared unjustified in failing to close the saloons on Sunday by the judges in a debate held at the First Christian Church, East St. Louis, Wednesday evening.

The debate took the place of the regular prayer meeting and was attended by many who are not members of the church.

The question was "Resolved, That, inasmuch as the citizens of East St. Louis uphold him, Mayor Cook is justified in not closing the saloons on Sunday."

E. J. Potts served as moderator of the debate. The first speaker for the affirmative was Frank Henderson. He declared that the mayor was the servant of the people, and that the city government was conducted according to the wishes of the people. He declared that East St. Louis was known as a "wide open town," and that her citizens were rather proud of this.

He was followed by Miss Katharyn Murphy, who said that public sentiment is no criterion, as it might be one thing today and another tomorrow, and that it should not be allowed to influence the chief official of a city.

The third speaker, Mrs. Belle Wilkerson, said that the blame for the opening of saloons on Sunday rested upon the church people and others of the better class who stayed at home on election days from primaries, conventions and elections.

She used the record of the election of Tuesday when only 65 per cent of the voters of East St. Louis exercised their privileges as proving that the people of East St. Louis needed to be aroused to a sense of duty.

E. L. Coley closed the debate for the negative by saying that there was but one main point—the law and its enforcement. The mayor's oath, to enforce the laws, he said, was sacred, and the laws required that the saloons be closed on Sunday.

He said it was the mayor's duty to appoint a chief of police who would have under him only policemen who would enforce the law.

Mr. Henderson made a speech in rebuttal, and Rev. M. Bugsby of St. Louis, chairman of the judges, announced the verdict in favor of the negative.

Musical numbers were given by Misses Edna Yeakey, Sadie Burton, Ada Parry, Helen Stanfield, Henderson, Mr. Kenneth Metcalf.

REAL, NOT PROXY GROOM, WON OUT

Determined Young Man Won Mother's Consent and Midnight Marriage Followed.

Paul Kisselbach, who wanted to marry pretty Miss Vivian R. Voudrie of East St. Louis, was not to be discouraged because he looked younger than he really was.

Fearing that the license clerk at Clayton would refuse them because he did not appear to be 21, the bridegroom-to-be sent a proxy with the bride-elect to pose before the clerk as the prospective husband. But the girl looked youthful, too, and the trick failed to work.

Then the determined young couple returned to East St. Louis, where they both boldly bearded the clerk in his den, but were again refused a license because Kisselbach appeared to be under age, though both declared that they had reached their majority.

Then the young man decided to appeal to his mother. It was long after office hours when her sympathy was sufficiently won and it was at a late hour in the evening when Mrs. Anna Kisselbach, accompanied her son to the residence of Clerk George Caughman, who had retired for the night, but obligingly issued the license when the mother made affidavit that her son was 21 years old.

The wedding was then performed about midnight.

A TRAGEDY IN "WHISKEY CHUTE"

William Crystel Shot Jack Lynch Through the Heart in Struggle Over a Hat.

"Whisky Chute," East St. Louis, was the scene of a killing early Thursday morning when William Crystel shot Jack Lynch through the heart.

Crystel, who is now in jail, states that he was standing on St. Clair avenue when Lynch came along and struck him in the face, then grabbed Crystel's hat and ran.

Crystel caught up with his assailant in front of Fred Warner's saloon, where a scuffle ensued. Finally the men clinched and were struggling over Crystel's gun when, half by accident, half in self-defense, Crystel says he fired.

Lynch received the bullet in his heart and died before an ambulance arrived.

Officers Garrison and Nieman arrested Crystel.

The dead man was 28 years old, and worked at the stockyards. The man who killed him is 30 years old, a steamfitter.

Police Separate Couple.

When George Speechler and his wife, Annie Speechler, who separated some time ago, met near their former home at Sixteenth street and St. Clair avenue Thursday morning they engaged in a fistic and hair-pulling encounter, which the police interrupted by arresting them. An unknown man interfered in behalf of the woman, giving Speechler a black eye and disappearing just before the police arrived. Speechler has sued for divorce after being 10 months married.

DAN McKENNA DUE TO WIN MEMPHIS FEATURE AT MILE AND 1-8

Outclasses Field and Will Be Strong Odds-On Favorite Two-Mile Steeplechase Will Be Hotly Contested Race With Cardigan Favorite.

BY RICHARD D. WALSH,
The Post-Dispatch Turf Expert.

An ordinary card of six races is scheduled for Memphis this afternoon. The feature will be the third race, a dash at a mile and an eighth for 3-year-olds and upward.

Dan McKenna should have a very easy victory in this event. He completely outclasses his field, and will be a strong odds-on favorite. Banter should be second and Rankin third.

The first race should go to Dick Ripley, although he is an unreliable horse. Arnold K. seems to be the horse he has to beat, and Overhand may beat Trossach for the show.

In the second race for juveniles Buchanan is giving away a lot of weight, but he seems much the best of the bunch and should win. It is a close thing between Florentine and Keno for the place, but the former appears to have a shade the better of it.

Niascus is so lightly weighted in the fourth race that she should win. She will have to fight hard with Duelist to do so.

Sambo appears to be weighted out of it, and I therefore like Bard of Avon for third money.

The fifth race will be a steeplechase over the full course, about two miles, and Cardigan and Itacatiara should have a very pretty contest. At the weights I prefer the former.

Redman is due to win a race, and will probably capture the sixth. Alma Dufour looks good for the place and Yo San may be third.

The track will be somewhat slow today.

MEMPHIS SELECTIONS.

First race—Dick Ripley, Arnold K., Overhand.
Second race—Buchanan, Florentine, Veno.
Third race—Dan McKenna, Banter, Rankin.
Fourth race—Niascus, Duelist, Bard of Avon.
Fifth race—Cardigan, Itacatiara, Bob Hilliard.
Sixth race—Redman, Alma Dufour, Yo San.

BENNINGS SELECTIONS.

First race—Princelet, Tio San, Rabunta.
Second race—Modred Law, Allen Avon, Lily Brook.
Third race—City Bank, Calgary, May Holiday.
Fourth race—Ascension, Elsie L., Toi San.
Fifth race—Toscan, Monte Carlo, Springbrook.
Sixth race—Briarthorpe, Past, Bessie McCarthy.

FIRST ENTRY FOR OLYMPIAN GAMES

W. L. Bonham, Champion of Columbia University, Will Compete in Parallel Bars Contest May 12.

W. L. Bonham of Columbia University enjoys the distinction of being the first entry for the Olympian games.

Bonham is the champion gymnast of the university, and is entered in the parallel bars contest in the stadium on May 12.

Track meets and baseball of the minor schools will take up most of the program at the stadium during the month of May, though there will probably be lacrosse, pushball and other games on the Decoration Day program.

Gold Medals for the Winners of the Final Bouts in Each Class—23 Entries.

Twenty-three athletes of the Missouri Athletic Club will take part in the amateur boxing tournament to be held in the club gymnasium Saturday night.

The names of the entries are withheld and the bouts will be witnessed only by club members. As the club has some of the best amateur boxers of the city on its rolls the bouts should be high-class and interesting.

Gold medals will be awarded the winners of the final bouts in each class. The class will run from 118 pounds and under to the heavyweights.

The boxing rules of the American Athletic Union will govern the contest. The bouts will be three-minute rounds with two instead of one-minute rests. In the final bout the last round will be four minutes.

There will be no hitting in the clinches or breaks.

Mark Ewing, a well-known local amateur, will referee and C. J. O'Brien and J. B. Sheridan will act as judges.

State Championship Pool

Henry Jones and Albert Howe will play tonight in the state championship pool tournament at the Broadway. Jones has been ill for some time and last night was his first match for weeks. He defeated Walter Alcoke in a close match by a score of 100 to 91.

BECOMING A MOTHER is an ordeal which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off. Thousands of women have found that the use of Mother's Friend during pregnancy robs confinement of all pain and danger, and insures safety to life of mother and child. This scientific liniment is a god-send to all women at the time of their most critical trial. Not only does Mother's Friend carry women safely through the perils of child-birth, but its use gently prepares the system for the coming event, prevents "morning sickness," and other discomforts of this period. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Book containing valuable information free.

MRS. BOTKIN'S TRIAL NEARING THE END

The Striking Feature of the Case Was the Appearance of the Prisoner on the Witness Stand.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9.—The trial of Mrs. Cordelia Botkin, charged with poisoning Mrs. John P. Dunning and the latter's sister by means of a box of candy sent from California to Delaware in the mails, is near the close. The arguments are being made to the jury today.

Mrs. Botkin was convicted of the crime at a former trial and sentenced to life imprisonment. This is her second trial.

The theory of her guilt rests on the evidence that she was in love with Mrs. Dunning's husband and wanted to put the wife out of the way.

The interesting event of the trial was the appearance on the witness stand of Mrs. Botkin in her own behalf. The court was crowded with women.

With a woman's vanity was "groomed for the occasion." Her hat was new. It also was becoming. Her dress was new. Her veil was thinner than usual. Her complexion had been cared for. There had been care in placing her modest display of jewelry. In short, Mrs. Cordelia Botkin looked her best.

She was all in black, as was her habit. The women know that the best garb for fat people is black—and Mrs. Botkin is undeniably fat. In colors she would be flamboyant as well. So her attire fitted into the solemnity of the occasion, and there was here and there a flash or suggestion of the woman who lured Dunning into a liaison.

On the witness stand she hung her head and cast down her eyes when she took the chair. Her voice was as soft as maiden modesty at first. She had to be admonished by Lawyer Knight to turn toward the jurors and speak up so they could hear. But soon she was distinct enough and far more voluble than her counsel cared to have her.

"I could clear this woman if she wasn't such a fool and didn't insist on talking so much," Mr. Knight is quoted as having said. Apparently she had been admonished to curb her tongue, and for a time she was concise enough. But before the day was over she was running into the long words which evidently she felt were evidences of "culshaw."

Now and again she looked at the jurors as if in appeal. Again she affected the baby blue eyes stare. She lisped some, saying "thaw" for "saw," and her a's were the good broad ones of dear old England. Her bath was a "bawth," the drug store a "chemis's shop" and there was "awnswer" and "awfternoon." Under cross-examination she flushed and showed some nervousness, and lost all idea of the value of concise expression.

As for her story, it was a general denial. She denied everything—the intimacy with Dunning; the purchase of the candy; the mailing of the package. She denied the conversation about poison with Dr. Stone and Mrs. Ruoff. She denied the purchase of the handkerchief at the City of Paris—denied that she ever had purchased anything from Mrs. Ike Tuchler, then Grace Harris. She denied many of her admisisons to Miss Lizzie Livernash; denied that she had been out of her room on Sunday, July 31, 1898, the day the candy was purchased; denied that she ever had purchased arsenic from anybody; denied that she knew Frank Gray, the druggist who said he sold her powdered arsenic at the Owl drug store.

In fact, she denied everything that had been told about her, and in so doing denied rather too much for credibility. When it came to cross-examination her testimony again and again conflicted with that she had given on her first trial. Often she was flatly contradictory. This was because of her present tendency to deny everything. District Attorney Byington was unimpassioned but merciless in tangling her, and when she had completed her three hours of testifying she was thoroughly worn out.

Allege Boys Snatched Purse.

Lewis Goldberg, 12 years old, and Jake Neiman, same age, both pupils of the Jefferson School at Ninth and Wash streets, are enjoying a lesson in prison life at the Four Courts as a result of a theft alleged to have been perpetrated by them Monday night. The victim was Miss Angelino Mauro, business agent of the local Garment Workers' Union. Miss Mauro was walking along Franklin avenue Monday night when two boys approached and snatched a purse containing $18 from her hand. Miss Mauro reported her loss to the police and the arrest of the two youths followed within an hour. The boys will be sent to the Juvenile Court for trial.

QUEEN'S JEWELS OUTDOORS ALL NIGHT

One-Third of Jubilee Presents Guarded in Open Air at World's Fair.

One-third of the jubilee presents of the late Queen Victoria stayed out of doors at the World's Fair Wednesday night.

It is the first time that such a thing has happened in connection with the wonderful trophies since they were carried from all parts of the world to the British Queen.

There were eight big cases of them, and the cash value of the eight cases was well in excess of $100,000, while the sentimental value is much greater.

The eight cases are a part of the total shipment of 25 cases, sent to St. Louis last fall for exhibit at the World's Fair, and since that time housed in the storage vault of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., under especial guard.

The removal of these cases to the World's Fair grounds began Wednesday. They are to be shown in the Hall of Congresses, and they were carted to the main entrance of that building, each case forming a wagon load.

When quitting time came, eight of the cases had been delivered at the entrance, but not taken to the second floor, where they will be shown. They were therefore left at the entrance, out of doors and just inside the colonnades.

Two special officers in plain clothes guarded the trophies during the night, and Thursday morning the task of elevating them to the second floor with ropes and blocks and tackle was begun again.

The cases look like huge dry goods boxes and are marked: "King Edward's exhibit. For the president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Co., St. Louis, U. S. A." The wooden cases are coverings for heavy zinc cases in which the trophies, wrapped carefully in multifarious coverings of soft paper, silk, cloth and other packing material, are carefully placed.

BOTH PARTICIPANTS KILLED IN A DUEL

Leaders of Rival Republican Factions Shoot Each Other at Conclusion of Convention.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 7.—A pistol duel, the result of the strenuous political fight between Secretary of State Dawson and Col. Charles Tetter for the Republican nomination for governor, occurred at North Fork, the most prosperous town in southern West Virginia, last night.

The fight, which was between Chief of Police John McFarland of North Fork and J. A. Ballard, a wealthy merchant and lumberman, brought death to both.

It took place at the door of the convention hall just as the proceedings of the convention were over.

McFarland was chairman of one faction and Ballard of the other. The convention split early in the proceedings, and contesting delegations were named to the McDowell County convention, which names delegates to the Republican state convention, in Wheeling.

This embittered the two factions more and more, and as the two chairmen met, leaving the hall, both drew revolvers.

Five shots were fired and both men fell mortally wounded. McFarland lived an hour and Ballard survived until daylight today.

The death of these two men makes seven persons killed in West Virginia in a little more than a month, the results of a political fight now on here.

The fight is sure to cause more trouble in McDowell County.

Sheriff White has already deputized nearly twenty extra men to assist in preserving order.

An outbreak was feared at North Fork today, but a message states that no further tragedies have occurred.

English Used in German Church.

English services will be held in St. Joseph's Church, Eleventh and Biddle streets, commencing Sunday. For many years the church has housed one of the largest German Catholic congregations of the city. Recently several Polish speaking priests were assigned to the church, but English services were never held there. German services will also be continued.

Cabanne Crusade Against Saloons.

At a mass meeting called by the Cabanne Home Protective Association Thursday night at Rose Hill Hall, 5905 Maple avenue, Rev. Father J. T. Coffey, Rev. F. G. Tyrrell, Given Campbell, F. W. Luce and C. R. Carlos are to speak against the invasion of the West End by saloons and social evil.

Five Cents for Scenic Ride.

A 5-cent fare is to be charged on the intramural railroad. Director of Transportation John Scullen thinks 5 cents sufficient for a ride on the seven-mile line, and will so recommend to the directors.

CHOIRMASTER AND ORGANIST CURED OF CATARRH BY TO-NI-TA

Mr. H. W. Humphreys, Choirmaster and Organist of Grace Church, Greenville, Cured of an Extremely Bad Case of Catarrh of Head by TO-NI-TA, Dr. Lorentz's Mucous Membrane Bitters.

Mrs. Anna Townley Says TO-NI-TA Cured Her of Throat and Stomach Trouble.

MR. H. W. HUMPHREYS.

Mr. Humphrey is grateful for his wonderful cure and writes:

"I want to say a word in praise of TO-NI-TA and of what it has done for me.

"For many years I had been a great sufferer from Catarrh of the Head and Throat, and nothing seemed to bring me relief. Every change in the weather aggravated my trouble, and I became nervous about ever getting rid of it.

"I am choirmaster and organist of Grace Episcopal Church, Greenville, N. J., and last winter, while preparing the holiday services, the church was cold and damp, most of the time without fire, and I contracted a cold which made my catarrh so bad that it was almost impossible for me to continue my work.

"After much persuasion, as I was skeptical of all medicines, so many had failed, I tried TO-NI-TA. A few doses greatly relieved me, and one bottle completely cured me."

Mrs. Townley lived in perfect misery for years. Two bottles of TO-NI-TA cured her. She says:

"I am 73 years of age and for many years have suffered tortures with catarrh of throat and stomach. Could not keep my food down and was very weak. At times I would have smothering spells and thought each word would be my last. Nothing did me any good.

"I saw your advertisement and decided to try TO-NI-TA. It acted at once and two bottles completely cured me. I am strong and well and feel like a woman of 30." Mrs. Anna Townley, Struthers, Ohio.

We have thousands of just such letters from men and women in all walks of life who have been cured by TO-NI-TA and say it is a godsend to humanity.

Write fully and in confidence to our doctors, as no letters are printed without the consent of the writers, and all your letters will be returned to you if you prefer.

TO-NI-TA is the wonderful discovery of Dr. Lorentz, the great specialist, and is used by him and his associates exclusively for the cure of catarrh in all parts of the body—head, throat, lungs, stomach, bowels, heart, liver, kidneys, bladder, female organs, etc.

Practically all diseases begin with a catarrhal inflammation of the mucous membrane or lining of the organs and parts of the body—head, throat, lungs, can be effected only by beginning with the mucous membrane. TO-NI-TA is the only remedy which acts directly on the mucous membrane and cleanses, heals and strengthens it, and drives out disease and tones up and invigorates the whole system.

Every TO-NI-TA testimonial is genuine, and the original letter may be seen at our office at any time.

It matters not how weakened, rundown, nervous or sick you may be, TO-NI-TA will bring you back to health and strength and give you a new hold on life.

TO-NI-TA is guaranteed absolutely free from cocaine and dangerous drugs, and can be given to children with perfect safety.

Sold by all druggists or direct, $1 a bottle.

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES

and imitations. Our attention has been called to a few cases where unreliable dealers have tried to sell some cheap, injurious substitute for "just as good as" TO-NI-TA. Ask for TO-NI-TA and insist on the genuine. Dr. Lorentz's "Beautiful Story of Life" free to anyone who writes Lorentz Medical Co., Flatiron Building, New York.

Sold and Recommended by Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., and Meyer Bros., Wholesale Distributors.

PASSENGER TRAINS COLLIDE.

Several Persons Injured in Wreck on Northwestern Railway.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 7.—Two passenger trains on the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad collided between Melrose Park and Maywood today. It is reported that several persons were killed and injured.

WORTH A THOUGHT.

This Statement will Interest Scores of St. Louis Readers.

The facts given below are worth a perusal by all who are anxious about their physical condition or are similarly situated to this resident of St. Louis. It is a local occurrence and can be thoroughly investigated.

William Tracy, teamster, 5741 Cote Brilliante av., says: "As a rule for two years I had pain in the back, but if I performed an extra hard day's work or was engaged in my calling during wet and stormy weather the aching was greatly aggravated. On such occasions trouble with the kidney secretions was sure to ensue. Looking over my paper one night I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills recommended by several prominent people in St. Louis. Some of the cases were similar to mine and they had been cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. This induced me to go to the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for a box. A dose helped, a continuation of the treatment brought greater results and when I had finished it not only had the pain disappeared but the too frequent action of the kidney secretions ceased."

HAIRY PEOPLE HOUSE CLEANING

Ainus Young Men Mop Up the Floors While Women Carry the Water.

OLD MEN "BOSSED" THE JOB

They Will Soon Begin Work on the Huts in Which They Will Live During the Fair.

The colony of nine Ainus, the aborigines of Japan, and, according to such an authority as Prof. Frederick Starr, probably the first inhabitants of Asia, who, as was told in the Post-Dispatch, arrived in St. Louis Wednesday afternoon, began housekeeping at the World's Fair grounds Thursday morning.

The first thing they did was to scrupulously clean and mop up the floors of the Indian building in which, temporarily, they are quartered. The two younger men of the party wielded the mops; the three women brought the water in buckets; the two older men sat and stood around, smoking and "bossing" the job. The others of the party—two children, 7 and 2 years old—romped about, tried to keep out of the way, and played "pack saddle."

The Ainus received many visitors in the course of the morning. To all they were extremely polite, and before all they were extremely modest. It kept them busy walking behind their visitors and each other, for it is an Ainus custom to not walk in front of a person where it can be avoided, and when it is unavoidable to bow low in passing.

They ate their breakfast of rice and fish with hearty relish. They took no meat, although they are not strict vegetarians, enjoying beef, mutton or pork in moderation like anyone else.

The Ainus are aborigines, but not savages. They are an older race, according to the anthropologists, than are the Igorotes, but they are peaceful and given more to hunting, fishing and agriculture than to the warpath. Unlike the Igorotes, they have no appetite for dog meat.

The Ainus are inhabitants of the island of Yezzo, in the northern archipelago of Japan. There are only about 14,000 of them now in existence, as, like other aborigines, they have fallen before the march of civilization. There are many Christians among them, only the older ones, as a rule, adhering to the old religions of their race.

They are said to be the hairiest people on earth, the men wearing long coarse beards and heavy suits of hair. The women have smooth faces, but to supply the lack of nature they tattoo a mustache on their upper lips—a blue semi-circle that curls upward at the ends.

The dress of the Ainus is in a general way that of the other inhabitants of Japan—loose, flowing gowns that swathe the lower limbs of men and women alike.

In the World's Fair colony, which will form a part of the anthropological exhibit between the Indian building and the Philippine village during the Fair, is a bridal couple—Jazo Osawa and his bridde, who were married in February.

Jazo is regarded as a rich young man. He has ten acres of land, raises rice and wheat, and has cattle and horses.

The patriarch is Sangra Hiramura, 60 years old, who wears rings in his ears, well hidden under his long hair.

The next oldest of the party is Santsu Kuno, a famous deer hunter and agriculturist of Yezzo.

The only bachelor in the group is Kin Goro Pete, a young fellow about 20 years old. The three women are the wives of the three men. One of the children, Kiku, is a daughter of Sangra.

The selection of the members of the colony was made by English missionaries for Prof. Starr. All but Sangra are Christians.

Within a few days they will begin building the huts in which they will live during the Fair.

TRUSTEE SUES BANKERS.

Assignment of Cotton Cause of Federal Court Process.

s George M. Block, trustee of the estate of the George Taylor Commission Co., which has been adjudged bankrupt, filed suit in the United States District Court Thursday to recover from the Boatmen's Bank the sum of $25,478.70.

Block alleges that following the bankruptcy proceeding the Taylor Commission Co., to the injury of other creditors, turned over to the Boatmen's Bank 400 bales of cotton, valued at the sum mentioned.

COLE AND BOONE COUNTIES ARE DEBATABLE GROUND.

Personally I favor Judge Gantt for governor, but it looks now as though Mr. Folk would have things his own way in my county," said former State Senator Ben Anderson of Boone County to the Post-Dispatch Thursday morning.

Folk is putting up a wonderful fight, and to those of us who are not actively engaged in the war the situation is mighty interesting.

"I do not know whether Judge Gantt will run against Mr. Folk in Boone. The committee has called a meeting for tomorrow, at which the question whether a primary will be held is to be determined. I think a primary will be called.

John R. Green, chief clerk of the Missouri Supreme Court, and the "Ben Blunt" of Speed Mosby's satirical novel on Missouri politics and politicians, was a visitor in St. Louis Thursday.

In response to a question as to his opinion of the gubernatorial situation Mr. Green said: "The fight for control of Cole is going to be the hottest we ever had. Reed and Folk are the opposing candidates, and it looks like anybody's victory now."

CHARGE ONLY TO CERTAIN VILLAGES

All Buildings on Reservation Under Control of Philippine Government Will Be Free.

DENMARK'S SPLENDID EXHIBIT

Priceless Porcelains Made at National Potteries Will Form Portion of Rare Display.

Admission fees will be charged to the Philippine reservation during the World's Fair, only to villages in charge of concessionaires who have received their concessions from the Philippine government and not from the World's Fair Company, and for the sole purpose of deriving sufficient percentage from the admissions to aid in paying the running expenses of the Philippine exhibit from the time the World's Fair opens until its close and the cost of getting the Filipinos and their equipment back to the islands. This is the explanation given by Dr. W. P. Wilson, president of the Philippine commission, for the benefit of those who, thinking that the entire Philippine exhibit is to be supplied by the United States government, are likely to inquire why there should be any fees attached.

The government's part in the expenses of the exhibit was merely the transportation of the Filipinos and their goods from Manila to San Francisco or Seattle. The Philippine island government appropriated $500,000 for the exhibit and the World's Fair Company gave $200,000. Practically all of this $700,000 has been spent and Dr. Wilson, who returned from Washington Tuesday, has made a request for an appropriation of $300,000 additional to pay expenses until the Fair opens.

The privilege of granting concessions was granted to the Philippine Island government along with its reservation by the World's Fair Co. The number of villages under control of concessionaires is not yet known.

Dr. Wilson said that of the 1100 natives here, 721 will be where they can be seen without cost. This number includes 481 Philippine scouts, representing four tribes; and 280 members of the Philippine constabulary, representing 40 tribes. There will be frequent parades in which all the Filipinos on the grounds will be seen without charge.

All the buildings under control of the Philippine government will be open to the public.

The reservation will be open at night. Two Filipino bands, one with 80 musicians and the other with 40, will be imported and will play without charge. Of the four villages, the Visayan, Negrito, Igorrote and Moro, it is not known which will have an admission fee attached.

WORKS OF ART FORMED BY GRAIN OF WOODS.

Sixty-six pieces of California wood, in whose grain human faces and figures are outlined will form a part of the California forestry display at the World's Fair. Mr. Thomas Hatch, superintendent of the exhibit, secured the collection by interesting school children in searching for pictures in the grain of woods.

The most remarkable piece is called "The Dutchman Smoking His Pipe." It is 14 feet long and in the dark lines of the grain are clearly outlined the great head of a Dutchman with his pipe to his lips.

Mr. Hatch has a small head which he calls "Melba." It is that of a woman with bared throat and uplifted face, as if singing. Her hair flies free. The features are as perfect and the curves of the neck and shoulders as graceful as the work of an artist.

EVERYONE CAN GET TO FAIR, SAYS TRANSIT CO. ENGINEER.

An optimistic view of the World's Fair passenger traffic situation is taken by Chief Engineer C. A. Moreno of the St. Louis Transit Co., who addressed the Engineers' Club Wednesday night at 709 Pine street. "The Transit company will be able to handle 50,000 an hour, the Wabash shuttle trains 15,000 and the Suburban 10,000," said Engineer Moreno, "and if the World's Fair has half as many visitors as the roads can handle it will be a bigger financial success than any other such enterprise has been. The average attendance at the Chicago Fair was 165,000 per day."

Engineer Moreno showed charts and diagrams to show that the street cars and Wabash trains can easily handle the business.

DENMARK WILL SHOW MANY PRICELESS PORCELAINS.

Priceless porcelains from the royal Copenhagen potteries will be the central object of the Danish exhibit at the World's Fair, and among them will be shown examples of the quaint animal figures that made the Princess Hatzfeldt, formerly Miss Huntington of New York, a favorite of Queen Alexandra of England.

Although the royal family of Denmark have had no interest in the potteries since 1867, the imperial crown surmounting the three wave lines, designed as its mark by King Christian VII, is still used. This pottery was founded in 1772.

Those who remember the hideous conventional majolica ware of 20 years ago will view with surprise the modern development of majolica under the leadership of Koehler & Co. of Copenhagen. Hanging on the rear wall of the Danish section is a majolica frieze representing a combat between eagles and storks. It has nothing of the conventional about it, as the poses of both the birds are very natural and artistic, while the coloring is superb.

Silverware will be exhibited by the most famous Danish maker of art objects, Peter Heriz.

NOT A NAIL IS USED IN BUILDING ADIRONDACK LODGE.

D. F. Sperry, a veteran Adirondack guide, who numbers J. C. Van Blarcom, Samuel M. Dodd and Rev. S. J. Nicholls of St. Louis among his regular summer patrons, is building an Adirondack hunter's lodge in the Forestry, Fish and Game building at the World's Fair.

The lodge will form a part of the New York state exhibit. It is made entirely of spruce logs, which Mr. Sperry himself chose and cut on the mountains. Not a nail is used in putting the house together, the logs being cut to fit into one another. The roof of the lodge will be spruce bark.

The furniture is of heavy polished spruce such as the millionaire sportsmen of the Adirondacks have in their houses. In the lodge will be placed the guns, traps and other equipment of a hunter. An Adirondack canoe is in the yard, just outside. The entire exhibit is surrounded by a spruce log fence.

Hornsby Pledges Support.

The attention of the Board of Public Improvements will be called to the impassible condition of streets and crossings in the Mount Pleasant district by a committee composed of Justin Fickup, Ernest W. Finck and Ernest Troschelt Monday. At the meeting of the Mount Pleasant Improvement Association, held at 4001 South Broadway Wednesday night, Acting Mayor Joseph L. Hornsby, president of the city council, assured the association of his support.

Flat Building Sold.

John S. Blake & Bro. report leasing the new flat building 4534-34A-36A West Belle place. The east flat containing 11 rooms, has leased to K. Suzuki, Japanese concessionaire, and the west buildings, having the same number of rooms, to A. S. Cappe of Riverton, Ill.

DID LODGE SAVE THE PRESIDENT'S BROTHER-IN-LAW

Indications Now Point to Him as the "High Authority" Who Sent Telegrams That Prevented Court-Martial of Capt. Cowles.

HIS BROTHER-IN-LAW WAS MEMBER OF INQUIRY COURT

Capt. Davis' Reply to Secretary Moody About the Alleged Telegrams So Evasive as to Leave Doubt of Its Meaning.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—It is now hinted that Capt. C. H. Davis was the member of the court of inquiry that investigated the ramming of the Illinois by the Missouri, who received the two telegrams which are alleged by the Army and Navy Journal to have been sent before the verdict was reached and that they were sent by Senator Lodge.

Capt. Davis is Mr. Lodge's brother-in-law and one of Capt. Cowles' warmest friends.

Senator Lodge is the President's chum.

Aside from their relationship Capt. Davis is under obligations to Mr. Lodge for many favors received through his influence with the President.

Senator Lodge succeeded in keeping his brother-in-law at the head of the naval observatory—which is one of the softest berths in the service—for five years, which is two years longer than the ordinary term of shore duty.

Every effort of former Secretary Long and naval authorities to send Capt. Davis to sea was checkmated by Senator Lodge. Capt. Davis went to sea only when he was ready to go, and then not until he was given one of the finest ships in the navy—the Alabama.

These facts, which had already aroused suspicion, were given greater significance today when the replies of the members of the court of inquiry to Secretary Moody's question concerning the telegrams referred to by the Army and Navy Journal were made public.

In the opinion of naval officers the reply of Capt. Davis is susceptible of a double meaning. It is not plain and clear and unequivocal, as are the answers of the other members of the court.

Capt. Davis might have received two telegrams from Senator Lodge sent in the interest of Capt. Cowles, with or without any suggestion from the President, and still be able to answer Mr. Moody's question as he did.

Mr. Moody asked if any dispatch was received "from any official in authority in Washington," plainly meaning some one connected with the navy department.

Mr. Lodge is not in that category, but he is clearly within the Journal's description of the sender of the messages as a "high authority in Washington."

Some officers believe that sentiment in and out of the navy will force Capt. Cowles to ask for a court-martial to settle the whole question. That, they say, is the only honorable course now open to him.

INDIAN CHIEF FACES DEATH LIKE STOIC

Three Red Men Killed and Twenty Hurt in a Collision in Northern Illinois.

MAYWOOD, Ill., April 7.—Sixty-three Indians, in a special car en route to Washington to see President Roosevelt, were crashed into by a mail train two miles west of here today during a fog. Three of the Indians were killed, three fatally and 20 others seriously hurt. The Indians, who were not pinned in the wreck, fled in a panic across the prairie.

After the collision the passengers in the other coaches of the two trains hurried to the rescue, and after a hard struggle, pulled the Indians from beneath the wreckage. Chief White Horse, in charge of the Indians on the train, was fatally injured. The bodies of the Indians who had been killed outright were laid on the prairie beside the track, Chief White Horse being carried with them. He said he knew that death was near and requested that he be placed near his dead companions. The chief was propped up and sat stoically while physicians worked over his injuries. He smoked a pipe quietly and showed no signs of the pain he must have been suffering. One by one the other injured Indians were slowly taken from the splintered car and placed upon the ground near their dying chief and dead comrades.

Earlier Departure.

On and after Sunday, April 3, Illinois Central, "New Orleans Limited," will leave St. Louis Union Station at 8:40 p. m.

SAVED PIES; FINED $10.

Bakery Wagon, in Danger of Collision, Knocked Down Man and Woman.

Edward McKenna's extraordinary effort to save his wagon load of pies from the danger of a threatened collision with a big transfer wagon resulted in the knocking down of an elderly couple and a fine by Judge Tracy, but the pies were saved.

McKenna was headed south on Broadway Wednesday afternoon and at the corner of St. Charles street he thought his one-horse wagon was to be run down by a heavily loaded stake wagon. So he whipped up his horse and dashed into the side street.

As his horse turned the corner the elderly couple were bowled over, but not seriously injured.

COURT SILENCES "LORD" BARRINGTON

Convicted Slayer of McCann Told That Talk Will Not Help His Case.

As told exclusively in the late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, "Lord" F. Seymour Barrington arose in court at Clayton Wednesday afternoon and himself addressed Judge McElhinney in an effort to get a new trial on the charge of killing James P. McCann at Bonfils quarry, for which he has been condemned to die.

After listening patiently to Barrington a few minutes, Judge McElhinney advised that the prisoner confer with his attorneys before continuing further, and said that his argument would have no effect on the legal status of the case.

Upon the advice of his attorney, Barrington sat down and the court asked for briefs and took the case under advisement. It is thought that as early as next Monday he will pass on the application for a new trial.

"I have been hounded almost to death by the police and other officials," said Barrington in his appeal. "There seems to be a conspiracy against me. I am charged with various marriages and many arrests. I have never been married nor under arrest before I met Miss Grace Cochrane at her sister's home on West Belle place, where I went to secure a room in answer to an advertisement. My troubles began with her. * * * The prosecuting attorney has suppressed evidence which he had in my favor, contrary to his duty. For instance, I advised Mrs. McCann not to send $300 in answer to a letter from Centralia, Ill., stating that her husband was sick there."

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Fourth Christian Church will give an entertainment at the church Thursday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock.

GRADJURY HEARS POLICEMEN

Investigation of Democratic Primary Outrages Is Believed to Have Been Resumed.

The grandjury resumed its work with the police Thursday morning, presumably in connection with the Democratic primary frauds. Patrolmen John Kirby and John Gurbar of the Eighth district, William Dempsey and Dennis Garvey of the Twelfth district and Special Officer Dennis O'Connell of the Tenth district were summoned.

The officers first appeared before Chief of Police Kiely and consulted with him. Then they marched to the ante-room of the grandjury chamber, and awaited calls to appear within.

NEGRO MOB'S COURAGE FAILED.

Nearly Had Its Black Prey When It Lost Heart.

BRISTOL, Tenn., April 7.—A mob today tried to get possession of Finley Preston, the negro who murdered Lillian Shaw, colored, in Johnson County, and who is now in jail at Mountain City.

The mob almost had the man in its possession when its courage failed, and it dispersed.

The mob is said to have been made up of negroes. This is the second attempt to lynch Preston by people of his own race. He was recently convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged, but his case was appealed to the supreme court.

A PAPER SOLD EVERY DAY FOR EVERY HOME IN THE CITY.

The Democrats are in need of a short platform upon which they can all stand.

The committee investigating the Beef trust should summon the St. Louis Humane Society.

Hasn't Secretary Hitchcock one of those Mount Vernon Russian oak saplings for Forest Park?

DeArmond says no one knows what Roosevelt will do or not do should he be elected. Let us hope that he will not "do" his native land.

SENATOR COCKRELL'S OPPORTUNITY.

In his interview with the Post-Dispatch correspondent in Washington, Senator Cockrell expressed his pleasure in the suggestion of his name for the Democratic nomination by his friends in Missouri without his solicitation, and said, "I have nothing further to say than what I have already written to my people—that I am a candidate for re-election to the Senate."

In these few words Senator Cockrell definitely disposes of his candidacy as a practical and genuine movement. He expresses his own utter lack of confidence in the possibility of obtaining the nomination and shows conclusively that he looks upon his candidacy merely as a compliment. In view of his own attitude towards his own boom and of the crisis in the Democratic party in the state and the nation, Senator Cockrell would be wise, knowing that he already has the sincere devotion of his people, to put a quietus on the movement to present his name to the national convention. He will thus spare himself the possibility of humiliation or of being made a cat's paw to serve the purpose of others.

Senator Cockrell, according to excellent authority, is known to have expressed a very favorable view of Judge Parker's candidacy as an opportunity to harmonize the Democratic factions. He is even said to have designated Bryan's alliance with another candidate as "appalling." By stopping the movement to put his name before the convention and advising Missouri Democrats to support Judge Parker, Senator Cockrell can place Missouri in the forefront of the ranks of Democratic states as a leader in the movement for a united Democracy.

It is significant of the strength of the Parker movement and of the truth of the Post-Dispatch's designation of Judge Parker as the Democratic opportunity that in the same issue of the Post-Dispatch in which Senator Cockrell's attitude is defined there is an unqualified indorsement of Parker from ex-President Cleveland and a strong utterance from Senator Gorman urging his friends to work for Parker. In the support of Judge Parker's candidacy are now joined Democrats who were conspicuous in the support of Mr. Bryan and the extreme conservatives in the ranks of Mr. Cleveland's following. The special fitness of Judge Parker to unite the Democracy is thus signally demonstrated.

The decision of the House of Representatives not to investigate itself is a self-denying ordinance worthy of all praise. It is touching evidence in a very touching scandal.

THE DAY NURSERY.

The proposal to establish a day nursery under the auspices of the World's Fair Temple of Fraternity is a happy revival of a project which commanded almost universal commendation.

One of the brightest, choicest rooms in the Temple building will be set apart for use as a day nursery and fitted up in appropriate fashion.

Mrs. George J. Frankel, secretary of the Temple, has asked the Board of Lady Managers for a donation toward this object and suggests $5000 as the amount.

The request is reasonable; the donation moderate; nobody can complain and everybody will rejoice if the project is now carried through to consummation.

The numerous protests published in the Post-Dispatch when the Board of Lady Managers abandoned the scheme go to show its popularity. And if the Temple of Fraternity is enabled to make it a fact, it will give universal satisfaction.

The Missouri mule is not only the most important factor in Asiatic and African wars, but he has the St. Louis garbage problem to solve.

MR. HILL ON RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

It is not likely that Mr. James J. Hill's opinions as to the value and practicability of river improvement will have much weight. The wish is father to the thought.

It is natural, perhaps, that the railways do not look with indifference upon the rate regulating competition of water routes and Mr. Hill in his remarks to the committee on rivers and harbors voices the sentiments of special interests bent on enriching themselves at the expense of the general interests.

The Erie canal is a standing refutation of Mr. Hill's arguments. That waterway, closed a good part of the year, is yet an efficient regulator of rates and the railroads have always framed their schedules with reference to it as to a natural requirement. New York owes its pre-eminence as a port of export and its position as the greatest American city to the far-seeing wisdom of Gov. Clinton, who conceived the canal propect.

The same influence exerted through western waterways will build up the inland cities—Pittsburg, St. Louis, Cincinnati—which are now to a considerable degree at the mercy of the rail lines. The prosperity and unexampled growth of Chicago are due to the lake outlet and this advantage can be doubled by opening the drainage canal to navigation and deepening the channel thence to the gulf.

It is a self-evident proposition. Sophistry and the tortuous logic of special interests may blind the heedless, but will not deceive any who take an intelligent view of the country's real interest.

Dr. Wilson says he is paying $6 and $7 a day for plumbers. The plumber has a lead-pipe cinch on prosperity this year.

JOHN L. ON MATRIMONY.

Mr. John L. Sullivan, late of Boston but more lately of New York, who is as full of wise sayings these days as he once was of pugilistic steam, has landed a verbal uppercut on those financiers who assert that a man cannot support a family on less than $1000 a year. Without intending to be unduly harsh is his estimate of the judgment of others, yet posing as an authority on economic questions of this sort, Mr. Sullivan says:

"If a woman is careful and a man doesn't booze and want to smoke 25-cent cigars, they can get along all right; and $600 a year will do it."

Whatever some persons may think of Mr. Sullivan's statement that "a man ought to get married when he is 21 or 22 and has seen a piece of the world," few will care to deny that he has laid down some broad principles, and that the tendency upon the part of the man to "booze," as he tersely terms it, and to smoke costly cigars is the rock on which thousands of matrimonial expeditions go to pieces; nor can it well be denied that considerable satisfaction can be extracted from life and a family of considerable proportions raised on an income of $600 a year.

Mr. Sullivan may not be a great philosopher, but he seems to have a pretty straight line on the possibilities of matrimony on a small salary.

Chief Kiely acted with commendable promptness on the suggestion of the Post-Dispatch that the police check the reckless speeding of automobiles on the streets and the park roads. The ordinance limits the speed of horseless vehicles to eight miles on the streets and six in the parks. No regard whatsoever has been paid to the law, nor to the safety of life and limb by the more reckless chauffeurs. The streets must be made safe. Citizens can aid in the enforcement of the ordinance, the license numbers on the rear of the machines making it possible to identify the owners of speeding autos.

THE BURTON SPECTACLE.

In sentencing Senator Burton to jail and to pay a fine, Judge Adams thus briefly and with moderation expresses the significance of the senator's conviction on the charge of selling his influence in the Postoffice department:

"Your conviction necessarily resulted in your punishment. Its importance, in my opinion, is not confined to its effect upon you. Your exalted station in life and the character of your offending give unusual significance to your conviction. It demonstrates that the law of the land is equal to any emergency and that it can be administered, regardless of the personality or station of the accused. It also demonstrates to all the people that public office cannot be prostituted to self-serving purposes—that public office is not a sure or safe passport to private thrift."

The spectacle of a United States senator standing before the bar of justice convicted of corrupt practices is both humiliating and gratifying. It is humiliating that any man under the legal and moral obligation of honest public service imposed by the incumbency of an office of such great weight and influence in the government should stoop to betray the people's trust. It is gratifying that the incumbent of so great and influential a public office should stand on the same plane with the humblest citizen before the law and should receive the punishment merited by his abuse of his public trust.

The spectacle was impressive, and its lessons should sink deep into the hearts of public officials and of the whole people. It is another proof that, while there may be corruption in the government, there are the means and the will to punish it. It shows that public sentiment is sound and that the law is efficacious to protect the people from public abuses.

BE GOOD TO THE ICEMAN.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

By all means, give the Sunday iceman a rest. Let us order all our Sunday ice on Saturday. Perhaps if we shall be thus just to him he will not put his feet into our terraces, which are so difficult to keep in shape all the year round. R. W. M.

A PLEA FOR THE RABBITS.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I think the Ladies' Humane Society should let the Igorrotes eat their dog meat and try and stop other cruelty, such as is done every Sunday morning on South Grand avenue, between Wyoming and McDonald avenue and eight blocks west. In such a nice locality men with dogs chase wild rabbits, let the dogs catch them and tear them to pieces. This has been done for a year or more, but no one says a word about it, not even the police. Why should the rabbits be killed? They are doing no harm. Many people have passed and watched them, but soon there will be none left to watch. Why not let the ladies stop this? POOR RABBITS.

ONLY GIVE THEM A CHANCE.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Some women marry for love, some marry for money, some marry so as to provide a home for themselves or for others that are depending on them for support, but the majority of women marry for—what?

Some women marry without the slightest provocation, while others marry to spite some one. Some marry and remarry while others are compelled, through lack of available material, to be content with one trial. Some have few opportunities, others have none; but show me the woman that will not marry, be she the so-called independent woman, or her more genteel sister. Show me! J. J. B.

WOMAN'S DUTY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Replying to "An Independent Creature," I would say—you have as much right to earn a living as a man. And as for marriage, you may owe it to the nation to marry, but you sin against God if you marry for ought but love.

I am inclined to think with Elbert Hubbard, "that the strong and valiant man who accomplishes much is really working out the ambitions and desires of his mother. He does that which to her was only a dream unexpressed, and in her son are her ambitions realized, her hopes gratified."

Hence, until you meet the man you know you will always love, your duty is not to marry. Do what you will, for you are man's equal. And after you have met and married him, your duty is—not to obey him (cheer him, help him, as a comrade), but your duty is to cultivate the minds of your offspring. W. F. S.

A Sonnet of High Prices.

O Landlord, with the big, capacious mitt
And yawning pocket, ever open wide,
Rich with simoleons that gleam inside,
A treasure for a kingly ransom fit,
Your eager eyes with money-hunger lit,
Will you be never wholly satisfied
Till in a golden palace you abide,
With diamonds in every inch of it?
Your grasping powers are illimitable;
Your greed is unappeasable, it seems,
And you to wreck us eager are, and able,
So dearly do you love the gold that gleams.
Alas! the outlook for us now is sable,
For you to nightmares have turned all our dreams.

Those Mysterious Disappearances.

When a young man leaves his quiet village home in Illinois or Missouri with $300 in his clothes to buy a nickel's worth of bird seed at the corner grocery store, recalls being in St. Louis, but "remembers nothing more" until he wakes up in Texas, "comes to" himself in California and gets back to said quiet village home in Illinois or Missouri inside of one week—why, then you can say:

That sounds to me
Like a fairy tale!

But you can make 'em believe almost anything in a country town—same as in a city. No?

Battery A!

If persons who have "interesting relics" would only understand that we have no hankering for old jugs, pewter tankards and frayed shawls, the job of getting the World's Fair ready on time would be greatly simplified.

Russia's "Minstrel Boy."

From the London Outlook.

The minstrel boy to the war has gone or is going. It is announced by the Novosti that a number of venerable Kobzars are proceeding to Manchuria to encourage the young soldiers to fight—a Kobzar being a species of Russian bard, who chants rousing songs to the accompaniment of a kind of harp. Doubtless the Kobzars will not follow the example of the minstrel Taillefer, who rode into action in front of the whole Norman army at the battle of Hastings, "tossing his sword in the air and catching it again, while he chanted the song of Roland," and was the first to fall. The tendency of modern armies is to economise their musicians.

"It's Fine Weather!"

IS WOMAN THE WEAKER SEX?

BY NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH, Granddaughter of Horace Greeley.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.

Mr. H. Irving Hancock in his book "Jiu-Jitsu," says that the weaker sex should be stricken from the English language so far as it relates to woman physically being weaker than man. It is to the mental part of woman this old, old, true statement refers, and how well every man knows its truth who has had dealings with the weaker sex. S. O. R.

THE quotation given above is from a very indignant letter of protest sent in by a reader who took exception to the statement made in this column a few days ago, that wives cannot be made to obey.

Evidently he not only thinks they can be coerced, but also that they should be, yet by his jiu-jitsu argument he denies the very physical superiority upon which masculine dominion was originally based. Back of all government, whether of an entire race or a single family, is physical force. It does not matter how far back it is, and is kept. It has to be there. Probably Mrs. John Jones does not yield to John Jones' reiterated suggestion that they move to Cabanne rather than to Carondelet and board with her mother, because she knows that in a prize ring argument of the subject John would get the better of it.

But when the Cave Man proposed a similar hegira to his docile helpmeet, it was the "dominant primordial beast" that issued the fiat and the dominated "primordial beast" that gathered the household goods upon her back and obeyed.

Women may possess greater powers of endurance in some ways than men—in bearing physical pain, for instance, for she does not always think she is going to die when she has a toothache—but the statement that she is not physically the weaker sex is ridiculous on the face of it.

But what about the assertion that it is to the mental part of woman that this old, old, true statement refers?

The statement is undoubtedly old and at the time it originated was true enough. Indeed, considering the world and all the women in it, and not limiting comparisons to countries like England and America, where the higher education of woman prevails, it may still be true. But it is growing less true every year.

Hitherto mind has been a necessity to man, a luxury to woman.

But if the economic independence of woman ever prevails entirely every woman will have to have brains enough to make a living and the average man cannot lay claim to any more.

That there is any inherent difference in the brains of men and women is an exploded idea. The average man's brain is larger, to be sure, but scientists agree that mere size does not prove anything so far as intelligence is concerned. Some of the world's greatest men have had small brains, some of its most degenerate criminals very large brains.

The greatest difference in the masculine and feminine mind, according to Darwin, is that man has greater persistence and can work harder for a longer period to attain his goal than woman, and the difference would seem to be more the result of superior powers of physical endurance.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Some swindler sent a box containing a battered overcoat and a bill for $62.50 to Senator Patterson one day last week, and the bill was paid by the clerk in the apartment house in which the senator lives. They were talking about it at the Senate today.

"Sure as guns," said a western senator, "Patterson thinks that swindle was put up on him by some of the Goulds or Rockefellers or Harrimans. I'll bet a week's salary that if he told his real thoughts on the subject he would say that some representative of a soul-crushing, money-grabbing corporation did it just to get even with him for his attacks on trusts and combinations."

John Philip Sousa lived in Washington for years and has many friends here. The last time he was here with his band he had a musician named Franz Hell.

"Curious name that fellow has," said Frank Bennett of the Arlington Hotel to Sousa.

"Yes," said Sousa. "I am trying to get him to name his children 'What-the' and 'Go-to.'"

"The cold-blooded way in which these Republicans look at public questions reminds me of the story they tell about an unfortunate drummer for a New York firm who died in a hotel in Atlanta not long ago," said Representative "Lon" Livingston of Georgia.

The coroner telegraphed to his firm saying: "Your representative died here today. I await your instructions."

In a few hours this answer came back: "Search his pocket for orders. Express his samples to New York. Give the body to a medical college."

Some of the hotels in Washington have schedules of restaurant and cafe charges that would make a Broadway host ashamed of his amateurish attempts to get money from his patrons. J. H. Maddy, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, had an experience a night or two ago, when the check became monumental with little reason. Next morning he walked into the bar at that hotel and said meekly to the bartender: "Will you kindly give me a glass of water?"

"Certainly, Mr. Maddy," the bartender replied, and he passed out the water. Thereupon Mr. Maddy dived down into his coat pocket, took out one of the little bottles for individual drinks used on railroad cafe cars, pulled the cork and poured out the contents of the bottle, while the bartender stood speechless.

"Much obliged," said Maddy, after he had sipped his drink.

When Parker Will Speak Out.

From the New York World.

There is no occasion for impatience. The Albany convention will meet in a fortnight. Its action will show that the Democratic voters of his own state are for Parker, unitedly, harmoniously, enthusiastically. The verdict of the greater gathering at St. Louis is foreshadowed in the World's remarkable canvass of the country, which shows that a large majority of the delegates, and practically all those from states that are likely to choose Democratic electors, will favor Judge Parker as their final choice.

Judge Parker will be nominated. Until then he is not in politics. When he is nominated he will show that he knows how and when to speak. In the meantime he is proving possession of the far more important and valuable knowledge of how and when and why to keep silence.

From the Nashville American.

Judge Parker's silence relative to current political questions has been and is the subject of no little discussion, but one of the most sensible views of the subject we have seen is the following from the Boston Transcript, an independent Republican paper: "New York, having an elective judiciary, the sentiment of the state is tolerant of politics on the bench, but this toleration has its limits, and a chief judge who should be an active political force would come in for criticism as violating the unwritten law which demands that the great tribunal over which he presides shall not, in his example, be identified with partisanship. Whether the silence of Judge Parker is due to careful policy, or to a realizing sense of the impropriety of partisan activity, it does not hurt him with the people of New York, and is commendable beyond local lines. He is a much stronger man before the country today than he would be had he undertaken an active campaign for the nomination with abundant displays of oratory."

COMPROMISE IN KANSAS

Hearst Men Agree Not to Ask Instructions If Johnson and Farrelly Are Chosen Delegates.

WICHITA, Kan., April 7.—Before the Democratic state convention, which met here today to name delegates to the national convention at St. Louis, was called to order, the delegates who sought instructions for William R. Hearst for President agreed not to ask for instructions if J. G. Johnson, national committeeman for Kansas, and H. P. Farrelly, admitted Hearst men, were named as delegates-at-large to the national convention at St. Louis. The convention will name 20 delegates, with alternates, to the national convention.

Christian Party at Coliseum.

Not having been able to get a meeting place inside the World's Fair grounds May 1 and 2, the central committee of the National Christian party will hold both days' sessions of its convention in the Coliseum. The convention is called at St. Louis to suggest a more central location for the capital of the United States, which may become the capital of the world, and to apply the golden rule to the government.

CROW WILLING TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Sincere Support of State Administration Is Named as Condition of His Candidacy.

HE HAS OPPOSED MACHINE

Means of "Heading Off" Folk Discussed at Administration Caucus in Southern Hotel.

Notwithstanding the persistent denial of friends, Attorney-General Edward C. Crow is seriously considering the advisability of announcing himself as a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The Post-Dispatch's informant states that Crow is willing to enter the race, provided he is assured of the sincere support of the state administration.

Mr. Crow neither affirms or denies this report. He says he has not sought the Democratic nomination and sees no reason to change his previous non-committal attitude.

A conference at the Southern Hotel late Wednesday night, attended by Secretary of State Sam B. Cook, Excise Commissioner "Jim" Seibert, Harry B. Hawes, Maj. Harvey W. Salmon, State Chairman W. A. Rothwell and Attorney-General Crow, lends strength to the belief that Crow would like to run.

At the same time the politicians cannot understand why Crow should ally himself with Cook, Seibert and other machine leaders, whom he has bitterly denounced in the past few years.

Not in Harmony With Machine.

Not long since Mr. Crow had occasion to tell the state officers what he thought about their official actions. He was especially sever in condemning the attitude of State Auditor Albert O. Allen toward the corporations, who, by the grace of the present state board of equalization, escape taxation on $200,000,000.

Nor, perhaps, has Mr. Crow forgotten how Gov. Dockery, now professing friendship and doing all in his power to stop the Folk tidal wave, subjected him to personal humiliation at the start of his administration three years ago.

Instead of consulting the attorney-general, Gov. Dockery employed outside lawyers to look after some of the most important legal questions affecting the state.

"If Crow makes the race he must do so independent of the machine," said a friend of the attorney-general Thursday. "The machine is in disrepute with the voters of this state. I understand that less than a week ago both Cook and Dockery called upon Crow and asked him to announce himself a candidate.

"Dockery regrets very much that he ever said such hard things about Folk, but now he would like, in view of his utterances, to keep out of the Folk bandwagon.

"Cook is thoroughly frightened over the situation. The bribery deal in which he figured is being used against him all over the state, and some of his best friends now do not believe he can be renominated. If Crow should run with the machine behind him he would have an awful load to carry in Allen, Cook and Seibert. And stranger still would the situation appear when it is remembered that there was never any love lost between these men and Crow.

"The machine doesn't care a rap about Crow. It does, however, want to beat Folk and beat him at any cost.

"Those who think Folk has won are mistaken. He hasn't. The machine right now is moving heaven and earth to encompass his defeat. Don't forget that we have had gubernatorial candidates who were within two votes of winning when they went into the state convention, and then lost.

"Good as is his record, I do not think Crow could stop Folk at this time. The people want Folk and nobody else."

HIGH COMMENCEMENT JUNE 17

Board of Education Announces Exercises for Odeon—Yeatman High School District Designated.

The committee on instruction of the Board of Education has announced June 17 for the Central High school graduation exercises at the Odeon. At the Wednesday afternoon meeting a committee was appointed to arrange with the World's Fair management for special rates for the school classes to visit the Exposition with their teachers for educational purposes.

The offer of a free scholarship annually to a recommended boy graduate of the St. Louis High school in Washington and Lee University, Virginia, was announced. It was decided that the committee has no authority to prohibit school picnics on Memorial or Decoration day. The Grand Army of the Republic has asked to have such picnics stopped. The grounds of the Shields, Humboldt, Laclede and Dumas schools will be granted the use of the Ladies' Vacation Playground Association.

The James L. Yeatman High school district will be recommended to embrace all territory north of Easton avenue to Warne avenue, North Market street, Jefferson avenue, Cass avenue, Eighteenth street and Poplar street.

GATES WOULD TRADE DIRECT.

Denies Report His Father Is to Consolidate Rice Plantations.

Charles G. Gates, son of John W. Gates, who arrived in St. Louis Wednesday, as told in the late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, to attend the marriage of his wife's sister, Miss Ethel Edgar, to Gerard Allen, will return to New York tonight.

One of the reasons for his visit to St. Louis is that Mr. Gates, who is a broker, wished to make arrangements to do his trading in St. Louis direct, instead of through a local broker, his present arrangement.

Mr. Gates denies the rumor that his father is to consolidate the rice plantations in the immediate vicinity of his mill at Port Arthur, Tex.

Eight Children Survive John Maguire, Long Resident Here.

The funeral services for the late John Maguire, whose death occurred Wednesday night at his home, 28 Benton place, at the age of 76, will be held from the Church of Holy Angels, the time to be decided later. Mr. Maguire, who was a pioneer real estate dealer, was born in New York and came to St. Louis in 1839. The fiftieth anniversary of his marriage to Miss Catherine Hart of Columbus, O., was celebrated last June. He is survived by a widow and eight children, James H., William A., Louis T., Charles J., Sister H., George Maguire, Mrs. Joseph F. Whyte and Miss J. Maguire.

MACHINE DESIRES BODY OF TICKET

With the nomination of Joseph W. Folk apparently in sight state politicians are now eagerly discussing the make-up of the rest of the Democratic ticket.

Will the Folk managers and delegates or will the machine have the choice of the nominees for lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer and attorney general?

Darwin W. Marmaduke, a brother of the late Gov. John S. Marmaduke, has been announced as the candidate of the Folk men for state auditor.

Mr. Marmaduke was about the corridors of the downtown hotels Thursday discussing the campaign.

"I have not yet announced my candidacy, but I am seriously considering so doing," he said to the Post-Dispatch. "I want it understood that I am not a Folk candidate, however, or any other kind of a candidate, except a plain Democratic candidate."

Southeastern Missouri Democrats at the Laclede Thursday were discussing Congressman Vandiver as the man to defeat Sam B. Cook for renomination as secretary of state. Those who know Mr. Vandiver intimately, however, say this is not his ambition.

Former Gov. Lon V. Stephens was about the Planters' Thursday morning. He conferred with Col. Marmaduke, Maj. Harvey Salmon and others. He said he had been out of the state, and was familiarizing himself with political conditions.

MR. FILLEY DENIES HE REFERRED TO TYPEWRITER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will you correct the misstatement that I referred to my typewriter and purpose to use it? I did not once refer to it, and so the error fails. I did say, and repeat it, that I should visit every ward in the city, from the Des Peres to the Chain of Rocks, and give the full text—as I did last night—of the city committee's proposition to me and my answer, so that the party might understand it. The meeting last night seemed to understand it and when called upon to vote upon the matter, sustained the proposition and answer without a dissenting vote. CHAUNCEY I. FILLEY.

REED SAYS HE WILL KEEP PHELPS OUT OF STATEHOUSE.

"If I am elected governor, I promise you that I will keep Bill Phelps out of the statehouse," declared Mayor James A. Reed of Kansas City in the course of a speech delivered Thursday at Russellville, Cole County.

Mayor Reed's fierce attack on Colonel Phelps has aroused the keenest interest among politicians. It was Phelps' lieutenant, Shannon, who was responsible for the defeat of Reed's friend, Kemper, for mayor of Kansas City.

Colonel Phelps' friends say that if Reed will make his threat applicable to other lobbyists, the colonel will not complain.

"I know this is the era of reform in Missouri," remarked Colonel Phelps the other day, "and if the reformers win the lobbyists are going to have a hard time of it. I'll say this, though: I have prepared for the rainy day that is coming.

"I only trust that others have something besides alum to fall back on when they are starved out at Jefferson City."

LOAN PROPOSITION DEFEATED.

Webster Groves citizens at the municipal election, held Tuesday, defeated the proposition to borrow $35,000 with which to build a new central high school. The matter will probably be resubmitted at a special election. A loan of $10,000 for the purpose of building additional rooms to the schools of the Wellston districts and for the erection of a building for colored students, was authorized.

ALL CLEWS FAIL IN PAGE MYSTERY

Whereabouts of All Persons Under Surveillance Has Been Satisfactorily Accounted For.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WESTON, Mass., April 7.—There is no new development in the Page murder mystery.

The conjectures about possible suspects were disposed of today. Mrs. William Jones, the insane wife of a former tenant of the Pages, has been the subject of inquiry for some time. She left Weston a long time ago and was supposed to be dead.

A Boston newspaper today discovered that she was alive and suggested that she might be the murderer, but it is learned that she is in an asylum near Halifax.

Inquiry concerning the sweetheart whom Miss Page dismissed ten years ago has developed that his name is Ernest Henderson and that he was unromantic enough to marry a German girl in Berlin soon after he parted with Miss Page. He is the father of a family and still in Berlin.

To date, the persons connected by police inquiry with the crime have been eliminated.

No person known who had an opportunity or seemed to have had an opportunity to commit the crime of six days ago has been assumed to be innocent. All have been under scrutiny, and against none of them has a reasonable case been made out.

Detective Shaw of the state police, himslf a man of great personal experience in obscure crimes, confesses he and his men are baffled.

Even the eyeglasses found in Miss Page's room were proved to have been hers.

AFTER THE LOYAL AMERICANS

Illinois Insurance Superintendent Asks That It Be Enjoined From Doing Business.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 7.—Startling charges against certain officers of the Loyal Americans are made in a bill filed by State Insurance Superintendent Vredenbergh in the Sangamon County Court, in which he asks that the organization be enjoined from doing business, and that its assets be converted and distributed.

A temporary injunction was granted by the court. There are 35,000 members in the organization.

Superintendent Vredenburgh alleges that examination by the insurance department of the books of the Loyal Americans before its consolidation with the Royal Circle showed that the organization failed to comply with its rules, regulations and by-laws, and had exceeded its powers.

The bill also charges that $30,000 was withdrawn by certain officers without authorization from the Supreme Council, which body, according to the laws of the organization, must sanction every expenditure. The Royal Circle, which was consolidated with the Loyal Americans, was found to be insolvent by the insurance department before the consolidation, and inspectors found that its officers had conspired to secure $50,000, and that not one-tenth of its members voted for consolidation with the Loyal Americans.

The bill further charges that since the consolidation the officers have increased their salaries from $10,000 to $20,000 per year without warrant in law.

CHILD'S HEART TO BE TRANSPLANTED

Rare Operation to Be Performed on Boy in New York City by Dr. E. P. Grausman.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 7.—One of the rarest operations known to medical science will be performed in a few days on 6-year-old Van Norden Faunt, who is to have his heart transplanted from the right side of his body to the usual working sphere of every well-organized heart.

All his life the little fellow has been laboring with a heart that has been swinging from the right side of his breast to the left, like the pendulum of a clock. He is of ordinary height, well developed, and healthy, but his mother declares he is the most excitable youngster in the world.

The least sudden noise will cause the boy's heart to beat with almost incredible rapidity. For some time past Dr. E. P. Grausman has been studying the case.

"Van Norden's case," said Dr. Grausman today, "is one of the most peculiar I have ever had to deal with. I cannot make any statement until I have performed the operation."

VACATIONS FOR FIREMEN.

Chief Swingley's Plan to Give the Men an Opportunity to See Fair.

Chief Swingley of the fire department will seek a conference with Mayor Wells on the latter's return, with a view of arranging for a week's vacation for each member of the department, in order to give the men an opportunity to see the World's Fair.

Under the rules of the department the men are allowed no continued vacation with salary.

Mayor's Message Costs $3490.

City Register Fitzgibbon let the contract for printing the mayor's message and accompanying reports for the fiscal year of 1902-03 Thursday morning to the Con P. Curran Printing Co., for $3490. The Curran bid was the lowest of three submitted. The Curran company has a suit pending against the city for the printing of the message last year on a bid that exceeded the appropriation and was afterward relet to another bidder.

Threw Oil on Fire.

As a result of throwing coal oil on a fire Thursday noon, Margaret Weber, a 19-year-old Hungarian girl employed as cook at the home of Edward E. Rothwilm, 4975 Forest Park boulevard, was badly burned about the body, arms and hands. The fire was extinguished by persons who ran to her aid, and she was taken to the City Hospital, where she will recover. The girl has been in America just a year.

"The Church and the Stage."

Frederick Warde, of the Warde-James company, appearing at the Century Theater this week, will deliver an address on "The Relation of the Church and Stage" at St. John's Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The music for the service will be furnished by the male quartet of "The Bostonians." The service is to be public.

Japanese Coming to Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Baron Masono Matsudural of the Japanese House of Peers, arrived on the steamer Korea today. With him is H. Yamawaki, secretary of the ministry of agriculture and commerce. The baron is on his way to St. Louis, where he will assume the management of the Japanese exhibit at the World's Fair. He is a member of the Conservative party of Japan and was for many years vice-minister of home affairs of the government.

Falls From Barge, Drowns.

William Kettel, an employe of the Union Sand Co., fell from a barge at the foot of Angelrodt street Wednesday night and was drowned. He was 33 years old, and his wife and children live at 1608 South Seventh street.

Warde and James Play "Macbeth"—"Othello" Again Thursday Night

FREDRICK WARDE AS PERDICCAS — LOUIS JAMES AS ALEXANDER

William Shakspeare's plays remind us
In a quite convincing way,
How much genius lies behind us,
And how rare it is today.

So enriched are all his phrases
And his speech that I'm provoked
To be curious as blazes
To be told what Willie smoked.

There are tragedies and tragedies, but there is no other good old psychological tragedy like Shakspeare's "Macbeth."

We have Louis James and Frederick Warde to thank this week that we are able to sit in a theater and witness a performance of this old master play, the very genius of which fairly lights up the theater during the dark witch scenes, and the strength of which makes us weep with Macduff and shudder with Macbeth before Banquo's ghost.

Warde and James gave "Macbeth" at the Century Wednesday afternoon. Wednesday afternoon is not a pretentious time in dramatic chronology, but when the curtain rose upon the first scene at Duncan's tent there were scattered through the rather good audience a considerable number of persons who had sacrificed time and business to be there and see it; for be it known that "Macbeth" is more traditional than anything else with us here in St. Louis. Number the times in the last decade when there has been any opportunity to see it. Modjeska's "Macbeth" was the last in a first-class St. Louis theater until Warde and James put the piece on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. James played the part of Macbeth, and Mr. Warde was Macduff. The other principal role, that of Lady Macbeth, was taken by Miss Alma Kruger. The combined ability of these three people made the presentation not notable alone, but really worth seeing and studying. Mr. James' delineation of the character of the Scottish assassin is perhaps not just what one would expect it to be, but he gets into the skin of Macbeth, and he has a right to his own appreciation of the character. It was much the best thing Mr. James has done during the Century engagement. Mr. Warde was excellent indeed in the scene where Macduff is informed of the death of his wife and children at the hands of Macbeth's assassins.

His portrayal of the Scot's grief not only provoked tears and wrung hearts, but gained him a quick crash of spontaneous applause. Miss Kruger's Lady Macbeth was less impressive than the characters assumed by Messrs. Warde and James.

Wednesday night the company played "Alexander the Great." Tonight they will repeat "Othello," of which they gave such a satisfactory performance Sunday night. Friday night and Saturday afternoon they will repeat "Alexander the Great," and Saturday night they will play "Macbeth," Messrs. Warde and James alternating in the leading roles.

The bill at the Columbia this week is one of the best seen there in several weeks. It is excently well balanced, and some of the numbers are above the average. Frederick Hallen and Mollie Fuller are a chief attraction, and offer a sketch by Geo. M. Cohan entitled "The Election Bet,' in which Mr. Hallen illustrates the number of nonsensical bets a man will make in the heat of a political argument. George Wilson, the minstrel, is there, in a "waltz me again" monologue, and as long as Mr. Wilson keeps on waltzing the audience enjoys it. Other highly intersting numbers well up in the headline class are: The Three Navaros, equilibrists and barrel jumpers; Matthews and Harris, sketch artists, and Mr. and Mrs. Silvers, singers of illustrated songs. The performrs who will comprise the next week's bill are:

The Herras Family, Crawford and Manning, Eddie Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Waterous, Hooker and Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Barry, Carrie Scott, Barry and Johnson, The Milroy Trio, Mlle. Carrie, Blair and McNulty, Kosure and Chaplain, Chas. Mayer and Dog and the Kinodrome.

Mr. Henry Ainley, who is leading man for Miss Maude Adams, is playing his first engagement in America. Charles Frohman brought him from London at the beginning of the present dramatic season, September last. He has made an excellent impression wherever he has been seen in this country. Mr. Ainley is a brother-in-law of the novelist, Anthony Hope, the two gentlemen having married the Misses Sheldon of New York. Mr. Ainley's wife, Miss Suzanne Sheldon, is an actress, and was leading woman for Charles Richman until he closed his starring tour here a few weeks ago.

Humes and Lewis, black-face sketch artists of more than ordinary ability in their particular line of work, head the program arranged for Hashagen's Auditorium, commencing Sunday. Others on the bill are the Tuson Sisters, Emma Latow, Russel and Dunbar and Dolly La Tow.

Walter Damrosch, who presents his concert form of "Parsifal" at the Odeon next Sunday afternoon, has notified his local representatives that owing to the serious illness of Mme. Mihr-Hardy that soprano's place on the program will be filled by Mme. Bertha Harmon-Force, known on the concert stage as Miss Bertha Harmon. Mme. Harmon-Force has repeatedly sung the score of Kundry, which is the principal [illegible] the music in Mr. Damrosch's version of "Parsifal," and this artiste is thoroughly familiar with it. There is no other change in next Sunday's program. The spring tour of Mr. Damrosch began quite recently in the leading Canadian cities and seems to have been a success from the start. In addition to Mme. Harmon-Force and Messrs. Ardrambault and Beddoe Mr. Damrosch brings the entire New York Symphony Orchestra of 70 men and three distinguished instrumental soloists, Mr. David Mannes, violin; Mr. Leo Schultz, 'cello, and Mr. Ludwig Mole, flute. The program includes all the essentials of the "Parsifal" score and the event gains added eclat from the fact that Mr. Damrosch in the course of the concert delivers an explanatory lecture on "Parsifal" and its place in music. Perhaps no other American musician is so well qualified as Mr. Walter Damrosch to offer this unique diversion in high-class music.

James K. Hackett will open at the Grand Opera House Monday night, in his new satirical romantic fantasy, "The Crown Prince," a play written especially for him by George H. Broadhurst. It is said to be the most successful play of its kind Mr. Hackett has had since "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Rupert of Hentzau," in which he made his first successes. The play is brilliantly set in a fictitious country, which permits of distinctive costuming, while the scenic effects are excellent. The company supporting the star includes many noted theatrical names, among them being Charlotte Walker, Joseph Brennan, Bringham Royce, Albert Perry, Morgan Coman, James Seeley, E. L. Duane, Isabel Waldron, Grace Barber, Margaret Robinson and Dorothy Hammock.

"East Lynne" and "The Golden Past" come to the Crawford Theater next week, commencing with the Sunday matinee. This double bill promises much interest and amusement to theater goers. The curtain raiser, "The Golden Past," is adapted from Mr. Oscar Dane. The cast includes: Miss Victory Bateman, Rachel Acton, Mme. F. Roena Medina, Miss Helen Williamson, Oscar Dane, E. J. Denecke, Erwin Connelly, M. J. Molaski and the following jevenile artists: Baby Cecil, John and Willie Roeder, Esther Crawford, Geraldine Floreist, Dorothy Lamb, Totsie Marks, Irene Behring, Lorene Van Slyck, Lulu Besselman and Archie Dix.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN-KELLEY FIGHT

Fifteen-Round Contest at Kansas City Thursday Night Will Be Witnessed by Jack O'Brien.

TONIGHT'S FIGHT CARD.

At Kansas City—Twin (Mike) Sullivan vs. Hugo Kelley.

At Philadelphia—Joe Butler vs. Peter Jackson.

KANSAS CITY, April 7.—"Twin" Sullivan and Hugo Kelley will battle here tonight in a 15-round contest at the middleweight limit.

Sullivan arrived yesterday from St. Louis, where he has been training for his battle with Jack O'Brien, April 14. Sullivan will try hard to hold his own with Kelley as much depends on his favorable showing.

President Haughton of the West End Club and Jack O'Brien, Sullivan's prospective opponent at St. Louis, are expected in the city today to witness the contest.

BIGAMY CHARGED BY WIFE.

Mrs. Du Laney Also Says She Had to Support Herself.

Mrs. Ellen C. du Laney, in a suit for divorce which she filed Thursday in the Circuit Court, alleges that her husband has another wife. She says she married him in St. Louis on April 22, 1895, and that on Nov. 20, 1902, at St. Charles, Mo., he married Anna G. Brady, and lived with her as his wife until Sept. 5, 1903.

The petition states, though, that the plaintiff continued to live with the defendant until Jan. 15, 1903. She declared, however, that he did not support her and she was compelled to work. She wants her maiden name, Dunn, restored to her.

WHEN LIFE'S AT STAKE

The most timid man will take any chance of escape. The slender rope dropped down the precipice, the slippery log over the abyss, anything that offers a chance of life, is eagerly snatched at. The end the man seeks is safety. He cares nothing for the means to that end.

There are thousands of men and women whose lives are at stake, who are hindered from accepting the one means of safety by foolish prejudice.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been the means of restoring health to many men and women whose hollow cough, bleeding lungs, emaciation and weakness seemed to warrant the statement of local physicians—"There is no cure possible." Why should prejudice against a put-up medicine hinder you from trying what has cured thousands of suffering men and women?

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both day and night. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it had helped her so much she insisted on my trying his 'Golden Medical Discovery'—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.

AGAIN TRIES TO OPEN SALOON.

Excise Commissioner Denies Petition of A. Badarraco & Sons.

A. Badarraco & Sons, who are seeking to establish a saloon against the protests of the congregations of the Rock, Central Christian and St. Alphonsus' Churches, the tenants of the Odeon and the school authorities in the block bounded by Grand avenue, Finney avenue, Windsor place and St. Alphonsus street, west of Grand avenue, have attacked the office of the excise commissioner with a new petition and a defense of their rights to have a license.

In the block are only seven lots, of which the Badarracos own two. They have been unable to secure the signatures of the other five lot owners to their petition. They have, however, presented a paper on which are the names of about 30 storekeepers in the block, who, while not taxpayers on real property, pay taxes on personal property.

The attorney for the Badarracos claim that a recent decision of one of the courts makes the taxpayer on personal property equal to the owner of real estate in petitions of this sort. Therefore, he says, the petition filed by the Badarracos is mandatory, and the excise commissioner must issue the license.

Excise Commissioner Seibert says he never heard of such a decision, and until the attorney can show it the petition will not be granted.

"Position for Handsome Ladies."

"Some very attractive ladies are wanted by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., of Battle Creek, Mich., for their exhibit of Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee at the World's Fair.

"The successful applicants must possess a handsome face, robust complexion, stylish figure and weigh from 140 to 165 pounds, and be of pleasing address. Good salaries will be paid. Applications should be made to the company direct, accompanied by a photograph, which will be returned."

CRANE AND SANDS RIVALS FOR TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The contest for the national court tennis championship has practically narrowed down to a duel between Joshua Crane, Jr., of Boston, and C. S. Sands of this city. The work of each yesterday was enough to show that either was capable of a championship contest. Summary:

C. S. Sands, New York, defeated O. S. Campbell, New York, 3-6, 5-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.

Joshua Crane, Jr., Boston, defeated Austin Potter, Boston, 6-1, 6-4 6-4.

CUSTOMERS SAW LOVE TIES SEVERED

Court Affords Revenge to Jilted Swain for Declaration, "You're No Gentleman."

Miss Mabel Elliott of 5599 Plymouth avenue was fined $5 and costs in the Dayton street police court Thursday morning for the rude manner in which she awakened Thomas Campbell from his dream of love.

Miss Elliott, according to her own testimony, went to Campbell's barber shop at 1024 Hodiamont avenue Wednesday night to tell him that if he had told the tales about her that had come to her ears, there could be nothing but coldness between them. Finding the shop full of customers, she opened the door and announced to Campbell:

"Don't you ever call on me again. You are no gentleman."

Then she slammed the door and went her way, until a policeman caught up with her and arrested her on Campbell's complaint.

Campbell testified that he and Miss Elliott had been engaged, and that he had caused her arrest because of the humiliation of having his dream of happiness so rudely disturbed before his customers. Miss Elliott is about 22 years old.

DID THE GOAT EAT UP LODGE REGALIA?

Tribe of Ben Hur's Work at a Standstill Because Degree Teams' Clothes Are Missing.

Things are at a standstill in the degree team work of lodge No. 45 of the Tribe of Ben Hur, which has its meeting place in Lafayette Hall, 1701 Cass avenue.

The cause of the interruption is that somebody has taken all the degree team's robes, knickerbockers, skirts and cloaks, and left them without the paraphernalia for impressive and imposing degree work.

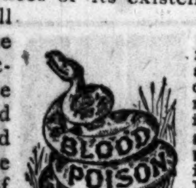
The theory has been advanced that the goat ate them.

The degree team has heretofore kept its uniforms and regalia locked up in a wardrobe in the lodge hall. They are not there now. The report of the loss shows that somebody got into the wardrobe and took away five suits of black velvet knickerbockers and coats, with sheepskin tassels; a lady's white silk skirt and cape; two ladies' black velvet skirts and capes, and numerous white and black silk, satin, velvet and cassimere cloaks, skirts and capes.

Coincidentally with the disappearance of the robes, knickerbockers and skirts, a negro porter employed about the hall disappeared. The police are looking for him.

KILL THE SERPENT

The worst disease the world has ever known, and the greatest scourge to the human race, is Contagious Blood Poison. One drop of the virus of this most horrible of all diseases will pollute and vitiate the purest, healthiest blood, and within a short time after the first little sore appears the system is filled with the awful poison and the skin breaks out in a red rash; the glands of the groins swell, the throat and mouth become ulcerated, the hair and eyebrows drop out, and often the entire surface of the body is covered with copper-colored splotches and sickening sores and eruptions. Contagious Blood Poison is as treacherous and elusive as the serpent. You may be carrying it in your veins with no visible evidences of its existence; for while mercury and potash seem to cure and all external signs disappear, the disease is doing its destructive work within, or the patient is constantly harassed by returning symptoms and unmistakable traces of the blood poison. Thousands of physical wrecks and chronic invalids from the effects of Blood Poison know the uncertainty of the mercury and potash treatment—that it stifles but does not kill the serpent. As long as there is life in the serpent there is danger in its fangs; and while your blood is tainted there is danger of infection. Safety lies only in crushing out the life of the loathsome disease and killing the serpent. For many years S. S. S. has been known as an antidote for Blood Poison. It is a remedy composed entirely of vegetable ingredients, and we offer $1,000 for proof that it contains the least particle of mercury, potash or other mineral. It thoroughly purifies the blood, improves the appetite and digestion, and tones up all parts of the system. In chronic and long-standing cases of Blood Poison, and where the health has been damaged by the use of mineral remedies, S. S. S. acts promptly and without leaving any bad after-effects. No other remedy is so safe or sure as S. S. S. in this most horrible of all blood diseases.



After suffering twelve years from Contagious Blood Poison, and trying the best physicians obtainable, and all the patent medicines procurable, and steadily continuing to grow worse, I gave up all hope of recovery, and physicians pronounced my case incurable. Hoping against hope, I tried S. S. S. I improved from the first bottle, and after taking twelve was cured sound and well, and for two years have had no return or symptom of the vile disease.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF DOINGS IN MARKET AND FINANCIAL WORLD

BEARS STILL WORRIED; PRICES ADVANCE

An Active Market Today With Rock Island Issues Sharing the Center of the Stage With Steel Preferred.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Active trading again characterized the opening this morning, Steel preferred being the most noticeable feature of the beginning of the session. London came strong and higher. Steel preferred being also the most active stock in that market. Contrary to expectation, the Bank of England rate was not reduced today, but remains at 4 per cent. Consols were advanced 1-16 for both money and the account. Foreign orders for early execution amounted to about 20,000 shares, mainly buying.

The first sales of Steel preferred amounted to 7000 shares at 6½, a gain over the close last night of ½ point. The short interest in this stock seems to be becoming unwieldy and the shorts are doing most of the buying at the present time.

There seems to be no prospect of a settlement of the grain rate war in the immediate future. Every time the difficulties are close to an adjustment new points will be raised and negotiations ended.

The latest road to be mentioned as passing to the Rockefeller control is Wisconsin Central. The rumors are vague and hardly bear the stamp of probability.

The full amount of the gold shipments that go by today's steamer is $2,925,000.

Trading for the first half hour continued active, but with only slight variations in price.

The opening prices and changes were as follows: Copper 50¾, advance ½; Atchison 73½, advance ⅛; Baltimore & Ohio 81½, advance ⅜; Brooklyn 44½, unchanged; Erie 27, advance ¼; Louisville & Nashville 109, unchanged; Pennsylvania 119⅝, advance ¼; Rock Island 23⅝, advance ⅛; Reading 45, advance ¼; St. Paul 145½, advance ⅜; Southern Pacific 51, advance ⅛; Union Pacific 89⅛, advance ⅛; Steel common 11¾, advance ¼; Steel preferred 61¼, advance ½.

The activity in Steel preferred spread to many of the other stocks, Rock Island in all its issues showing decided strength and goodly advances. Commission buying in Rock Island common and preferred was better than for several months.

The settlement of the strike of the building trades had a beneficial effect on the entire market and particularly on Realty preferred, which advanced 3 points on active dealings. The general sentiment was decidedly bullish and all kinds of buying tips were afloat. Union Pacific did not join in the general advances as much as others, this stock seeming to have had its inning in the bull line for the present.

The sales to noon aggregated 358,800 shares with money continuing easy at from 1¼ to 1½ per cent on call.

The cliques and pools were clearly at work today and their operations were eminently successful. The long, hard bear campaign had been a decided drag on many and the turn, even though it is temporary, was a relief.

Rock Island all through the day was the stock that shared the honors with Steel preferred and in the late session it was the prominent feature. Commission buying, particularly from the West, was noticeable and the common and preferred showed a better outside interest than for a long time. The declaration of the regular dividend on the Rock Island preferred was expected, but the announcement only served to strengthen the position of the bulls.

The prospects are that there will be some heavy gold shipments during the next few months and several of the wise ones predict that the present easy money will not last long.

The close was comparatively active after a period of dragging trading and the last prices were very irregular, but generally below the high point.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Opening prices of stocks here today followed the London quotations to a level higher than last night there were running sales of 7000 shares of United States Steel preferred at 61⅛ and 61, compared with 60⅝ last night, and the second mortgage bonds rose ¾. Colorado Fuel gained 1⅛. Advances reached a point in Wisconsin Central preferred and Denver & Rio Grande preferred. The Realty stocks rose about a point each on the adjustment of threatened labor difficulties in the New York building trades.

Business increased large in volume and there was again appreciation in values, though slight for the most part. Standard stocks showed improvement of half-point or more here and there with the western group in active demand. Realty preferred made a rise of 2⅝, touching 57, and Anaconda moved up 5½ on a few transactions. International Pump, St. Joseph & Grand Island 1st preferred and Brooklyn Union Gas sold 1⅛@2⅛ higher. Prices fell off somewhat, Realty preferred reacting 1¼, until a fractional advance in Missouri Pacific steadied the market.

A rise of a point in Missouri Pacific was followed by an equal advance in Wabash preferred, United States Steel preferred, Amalgamated Copper and Sugar got up about a point. Lackawana advanced 2¼, St. Louis & San Francisco 2d Preferred 1½, and Rock Island, Baltimore & Ohio preferred, Chicago & Alton preferred and Colorado Southern 1st preferred 1. Reading gained a large fraction, but the Pacifics hung back, and the general list was but little affected.

Bonds were firm at noon.

Steady buying of Rock Island and United States Steel securities elevated them to a higher level, but the general market remained sluggish. Rock Island preferred scored a gain of 1⅜. Southern Pacific sagged to below last night. The undertone of the market was quiet, but the trading was dull and sluggish for a time. The new advances generally did not exceed important fractions.

CONTINUES FIRM ON LOCAL STOCKS

Demand for Bonds at Strong Figures Was Feature of Today's Market.

UNITED PFD. MAKES GAIN

Transit Was in Better Demand Today at Increase in Price.

The St. Louis Stock Exchange showed less activity this morning than at yesterday's corresponding session, but there was no change from the strong tone of yesterday's market. The public appear to be taking more interest in the trading than for some time, and the orders have more the appearance of commission buying than scalping.

The investment demand for bonds continues and $8000 of United Railways 4s were taken at yesterday's price of $80.50. Brewery bonds were sellers to the extent of $4000 at $94.75, practically unchanged from the last sales.

Transit sold to a larger extent than yesterday, 165 shares bringing $12 and 50 selling at $12.12½. United Railways preferred gained to $54 on transfers of 55 shares.

The balance of the list was inactive but firm in the bidding.

WHEAT STRONG; COARSE GRAIN WEAK

Delayed Spring Wheat Seeding a Bullish Factor in the Wheat Market.

ARMOUR MARKETS PREVAIL

That Manipulator Sells Corn and Buys Wheat—Small Receipts and High Cash Prices.

In the Chicago grain markets it was a case of Mr. Armour almost exclusively, he dumping corn and annexing wheat, with the natural result that former declined and latter advanced. In these opposite actions all other speculative markets followed, but the trade in an awfully mixed state of mind and very uncertain just where they were at when the close arrived. A new feature in the wheat market was the introduction of delayed seeding of spring wheat, snowstorms in the Northwest producing this offset to fine weather and improving crop conditions in winter wheat sections. The poor flour trade and consequently limited demands for cash wheat still prevail, as strongly felt in the Northwest, as in the Southwest. The practical cutting out of the foreign demand through the high price in this country for the actual wheat is chiefly responsible for this unfortunate condition. Extremely light receipts make the high prices possible. These very small offerings are also seen in coarse grain markets and have placed such a premium on their price that domestic demands limited and export business killed.

WHEAT—Higher cables, due, Broomhall cabled, to America's late rally and light Argentine offers, small receipts and stronger offerings at other markets, strengthened prices somewhat at this point. Magnificent weather, more rain having fallen, including the Southwest, was too much for the average local trader to stand for; bullish influences and the selling was so free that the early advance was soon lost. July sold ⅛c higher, opening at 82¼c to 82⅜c and selling off to 82c. May opened at 94c, a decline of ¼@⅜c. September was neglected. Liverpool was reported ⅝@½d higher and London ¼d better, but Paris quiet and unchanged. Receipts locally were 7500 bu, against 43,200 bu a year ago. The Cincinnati Price Current reported some improvement in the crop.

Reported heavy snows and cold weather in the Northwest created fears of delayed seeding causing a reaction in speculative markets on which July sold here at 82½c, but after hanging irresolute for some time declined to 81⅞c, the weakness in coarse grain having an adverse effect. May sold up to 94¼c, and back to 94c. September had 80c bid, and then offered at 79⅞c. Closing cables reported advances for the day of ¼d at Liverpool, ¼d at London and ¼c at Paris, and no changes in Antwerp, Berlin or Budapesth. Primary receipts were 374,000 bu, against 356,000 bu, and shipments 283,000 bu, against 672,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour were 154,000 bu, no wheat clearing.

July finally sold at 81⅞c, but under the influence of a sudden up-shoot in the Chicago market on shorts covering, Armour manipulation and Northwest buying on too much snow delaying seeding, there was a rapid advance here to 82⅝@82¾c. From this relapsed to 82¼c and at close 82⅛@82¼c bid. May was offered at 93¾@93⅞c, sold later at 94c and 93⅞c asked at close. September offered at 79⅝c, had 80¼c bid later and nominally 80c at close.

Cash Market—Milling demands limited to a car-lot basis and offerings of about the same character. Choice soft winter stronger, but hard winter heavy. By sample delivered, No. 2 red sold at $1.07, destination for choice nearby and western quotably at 98c; No. 3 red nominally $1.01@1.02 for choice, and off grade offered at 95c; No. 4 nominally 80@95c; No. 2 hard 90@92c, selling at 91c; No. 3 hard sold at 85@89c; No. 4 hard at 81@85c; No. 3 white spring at 91½c; No. 2 do worth 94c.

CORN—An easier tone was manifest in the speculative market this morning, though weather conditions promised more rain. Receipts showed small, only 18,000 bu having come in, where 48,200 bu received a year ago, and Liverpool had advanced ¼d. Declines at Chicago, however, offset all these and July opened here ¼c lower at 48⅞c. May was offered at 48c. September not mentioned.

May reacted to and sold at 48⅛c and for July, 49¼c bid, but the failure of Chicago to hold up caused a decline later to 47½c for former and 48⅝c for July. Liverpool held its ¼d advance and closed at that. Primary receipts were 297,000 bu, against 282,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 176,000 bu, against 663,000 bu last year. Clearances were 48,000 bu.

The future market was not traded in during the entire forenoon. Primary receipts were 430,000 bu, against 368,000 bu, and shipments 392,000 bu, against 818,000 bu last year. Clearances were nothing.

July sold at 48½c, and then the market strengthened, May having 48c bid, but July not selling above 48⅝c. Late there came a general decline, on which May sold at 47¼c, closing at 47¼c, September then selling at 48¼c.

Cash Market—Stronger for choice dry and sound, but demand exceedingly small and off grades dull at low prices. Basis local—No. 2 at 49½c, No. 3 at 47½c for soft to 48½c; No. 2 yellow at 50c, No. 3 do at 48c for soft, No. 2 white at 49@50c; No. 3 do at 48½c. Destination—No. 2 at 50c for seed, No. 3 at 49c, No. 4 at 45c. No. 3 yellow at 49c, No. 2 white at 49½@50c, and fancy 50½c, No. 3 do at 49c.

Later in the day 39c was bid for May and July offered at 37½c. September at 31c, but no trading.

Cash Market—Good feeding grades scarce and ready sale at firm prices, but no shipping demand, and off grades or barley mixed only salable at low prices. By sample on track No. 2 nominally 43@43¼c, No. 3 sold at 42c and color at 42¼c, No. 4 at 36c. No. 2 white nominally 46@46½c, No. 3 white at 45@45½c, extra and fancy at 46c, but off grade offered at 44½c, No. 4 white at 31c for barley mixed to 41c for shipping grade and 41@43c local.

RYE—Nothing done. Grade No. 2 quotable at 68c and No. 3 at 65c; none offered.

OATS—The future market was neglected and entirely nominal this morning. Receipts were 22,950 bu, which was 72,900 bu smaller than a year ago.

Trade Topics.

Broomhall's weekly foreign crop summary: "United Kingdom—Crop conditions have continued to show a gradual improvement. France, Roumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Belgium, Italy, Spain. Weather conditions remain satisfactory on the whole and crop outlook favorable. Russia—Some reports state condition of winter wheat has improved. Spring seeding backward. Germany—Cold winds past week caused anxiety for crop, but weather now improved. India, North Africa, etc.—Crop conditions continue extremely favorable."

Broomhall cables on Liverpool—Wheat: The afternoon strength in American markets yesterday and small offerings of Argentine wheat caused a steady opening, with prices ⅛d higher. Market continued rather firm throughout morning, with a further gain of ¼d in July, strength in spot wheat being a factor. Corn: Opening prices were unchanged, but later market advanced ¼d on covering by shorts, owing to disappointment over condition of fresh arrivals of corn. There was a good demand for spot corn of prime quality.

Cincinnati Price Current says: Week favorable for growing wheat. Moderate improvement indicated. Spring seeding delayed. Full acreage of oats expected. Marketing restricted by bad roads. Corn supplies comparatively small. Wheat supplies small in eastern sections. Hog packing for week, 420,000 head, against 335,000 last year.

Northwestern Miller says: "Flour production compared with week before increased 81,000 barrels but lacked considerably of equaling estimate. Quantity flour turned out was 250,565 bbls, against 398,385 in 1903 and 360,700 bbls in 1902. This week only 12 mills in operation. If possible flour trade last week was the dullest yet experienced. The limited business done was practically all in domestic markets. Export trade dull. Only one mill known to have sold a little patent abroad and then price paid to get a certain brand that was especially wanted."

FLOUR—No change to note. Business confined to filling the few and generally small domestic orders received, with occasional sales to gulf islands and South America. Outside mills are offering flour for sale in this market because of inability to sell to their usual customers. A round lot hard winter patents reported offered laid down here at $3.80 in jutes. Quotations on soft winter in wood: Patents, $4.90@5 and special brands 20@25c higher; straights, $4.75@4.85; extra fancy, $4.60@4.70; clears, $4@4.25; medium and low grade in jutes: Patents, $4@4.10; straights, $3.80@3.90; clears, $3.10@3.30; lower grades, $2.50@2.75. Spring wheat patents, in bulk, $4.60@4.75.

MILLFEED—So little obtainable that 80c bid for both hard and soft winter bran (sale at 81c at mill), 80c to 85c for mixed feed and 85c to 95c for middlings, according to quality, all to be in 100s and basis east track. At mill bran jobs at 85c and ships at $1.

FLAXSEED—St. Louis—Nominally $1.06; none offered.

Chicago—Cash northwest, $1.16 b; southwest, $1.09; May, $1.11 b.

Duluth—May, $1.16¼ b; July, $1.18 b.

Minneapolis—Cash, $1.13½.

HAY—All good feeding hay, whether of timothy, clover or prairie and light mixed, finds ready buyers at steady prices. Medium grades are slow and lower qualities not wanted. Market basis east track: Timothy—Choice, $13.50@14; No. 1, $11.50@13; No. 2, $9@11; No. 3, $7@9. Clover—$10.50@11 for light and $9@9.50 for heavy mixed. Prairie—No. 1 or choice, $9.50@10; No. 2, $8@8.50; No. 3 or low, $9@10.

STRAW—On track: Wheat and oats, $6@6.50; rye, $9@10.

GRASS SEEDS—Per 100 pounds: Clover, $4 for trashy and $9@9.75 for good; timothy at $2.40 to $2.60; redtop at $1 to $6; Hungarian at $1.25 to $1.50; millet at $1 to $1.50.

PORK—F. o. b.: New standard mess jobbing closed at $12.80.

LARD—Choice steam east side closed at $6.30; kettle-rendered, 6⅞c.

BACON—Boxed s. c. meats jobbing: Breakfast bacon at 10c for heavy to 13½c for choice light; hams, 10¾@11½c; California, 7½c; New York shoulders, 7⅝c. Plain smoked boxed lots jobbing: extra shorts, 7⅝c; ribs, 7⅝c; short clear, 7⅞c; bellies, 8@9c; plates, 9¼c; fat backs, 6¼c; standard backs, 7c.

COUNTRY LARD—Quotable at 5½@6c.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 6½c; sides, 8c; hams, 10c.

OLEO-STEARINE—Nominal at 6¼@6⅜c.

TALLOW—Country—No. 1 run, 5@5¼c; No. 2 do, 4@4¼c. Packers' prime, 5¼@5½c.

GREASE—Small irregular lots country: Brown, 3¼c; yellow, 3⅜@3½c; and white, 4¼c to 4½c—latter for choice. Packers' stock nominally: Brown, 3¾@3⅞c; yellow, 3¾@4¼c; white, 5@5¼c.

LEAD—Steady and firm at $4.42½. All sales made are at that price.

SPELTER—Strong and in demand at $5.05, but held higher.

LIVERPOOL, April 7.—Sales, 5000 bales, of which 4400 were American. Uplands, 8.28d, 8-100d higher.

Futures—April, 8.09d; April and May, 8.06d; May and June, 8.03d; June and July, 8.01d; July and Aug., 7.96d; Aug. and Sept., 7.68d; Sept. and Oct., 6.88d.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, April 7.—Reports of additional moisture in the southwest today offset the results of higher cables. The market ruled steady. July opened unchanged to ⅛c higher at 86⅞c to 87c. Some reaction occurred later, on fair selling, July receding to 86½c. The market rallied again, however, July going to 86¾c. Receipts at Chicago, Minneapolis and Duluth were 257 cars, against 183 a year ago.

July sold off to 86¼c, but the close was firm, with July ⅛c higher, at 87c.

Purchases by the leading long of nearly a million bushels of July option created a firm sentiment in corn in spite of liberal selling by pit traders, due to liberal receipts and improved grading. July opened ¼c higher to ⅜c lower at 52⅞c to 53c. After touching 53⅜c the price held firm at 53c. Receipts, 225 cars.

On continued selling and on evidence that the big holder had turned seller, July declined to 51⅛c. The close was at the bottom, with a net loss of 1⅝c.

DONOVAN COMMISSION CO. ON THE MARKETS.

ST. LOUIS, April 7.—It looks as though the man who runs the markets has cut out corn and is playing wheat as his specialty. Either that or he is working a game to make speculation believe so. Armour plugged everybody full of corn, the private wires say, and he must have given the trade more than they wanted from the way the chalk marks were cut down. If there's anything in the stories of his big sales of the cash stuff for shipment he must be laying the foundations for another bull turn. When the shorts climbed out the other day the speculative price went too much above the spot level. When that is adjusted there will be another rise. On any further decline would take on corn for an upturn. Oats will follow. Would sell both on any advance just now.

There is no doubting the fact that wheat is bottled up and only one man can uncork it. The cash situation, so far as real demands go, are against him, and so is the Southwest crop situation, but short supplies and contract especially shy and bad weather delaying seeding in the Northwest is with him. I don't look for the screws to be put on yet and on any good advance believe sales a good thing, but I certainly would buy on any break. HARRY REED.

$20,000 WORTH OF UNION STOCK SOLD

Bernard Griesedieck Buys Up the Last Lot of Shares From General Manager Carmody.

General Manager Carmody of the Union Jockey Club has disposed of the last lot of stock of the new racing plant which he had on hand.

It comprised $20,000 worth.

Bernard Griesedieck, scretary of a local brewing company, took it all Wednesday afternoon.

The stock is principally held by St. Louis people, the directors of the club being the chief holders of it.

HOW TO PLAY BASEBALL

BY CHARLES A. NICHOLS, Manager for the Cardinals.

(These lessons, begun in the Post-Dispatch's Sporting Inaugural last Sunday, will be continued daily to and including next Sunday.)

No player can survive at second base in fast baseball company who does not possess:

1. Speed.
2. A good arm.
3. A quick mind.

HINTS TO SECONDBASEMEN.

Following are a few pointers which should be observed in playing second base:

1. Start for the bag the minute you see the ball is hit to the right of the pitcher.

2. Stand to the left of the base when taking a throw from the catcher to catch a runner.

3. With men on second and third sign the catcher for throws to second to catch the former, when he takes too big liberties off the base.

4. Practice the short throw with the catcher to draw a man in home from third.

5. Take all short flies according to the coaching of the outfield.

6. Don't dodge with an opponent caught in a run up. Make him run hard, before you throw, so that he can't stop quickly and turn back.

7. The second a bunt is laid down toward first with a runner on that bag, cover second for the possible throw.

The first is necessary both in covering the bag and fielding the position. The frequency with which double plays develop make the second feature essential. While the location of the player as the center of the infield machine and the virtual pivot on which plays turn make it imperative that he be able to divine instantly the right play at the right time.

Many authorities have held that the second baseman, and, in fact, the shortstop also, be of a particular build. The short, chunky player is supposed to be the ideal type, because he is nearer the ground and theoretically, therefore, better able to handle ground balls.

It is only necessary to point to the case of La Joie, the greatest second baseman in the game, perhaps, who is six feet and weighs about 200. It must be said, however, that second basemen as a rule are short.

Good natural talents are not alone necessary. Speed can be materially aided by intuitive knowledge of the game. If you study what to do at certain times the fraction of a second of hesitancy that might otherwise exist is done away with.

Second basemen should follow the game closely. Careful count on and what to do in case a certain play is brought off, should have been canvassed by the infielder before it takes place.

Now and then plays come up which no figuring could forecast and there the mind of the player will have to stand by itself.

The first mechanical necessity of an infielder is that he be able to take balls on either side of him. Practice and speed can develop this.

He must learn to pickup balls and throw them with almost the same motion and while on the dead run. As a matter of course it follows that unless there is plenty of time, the second baseman cannot stop, straighten up and then throw. Therefore the infilder should practice underhand throwing.

This will save you many a second in getting the ball to first in the course of a season, and will prevent many a hair line decision.

The manner of playing the position varies, and frequently dpends on the pitchers, and occasionally the batter.

A good fielding pitcher can be relied upon and the baseman can play deeper, while the intention of the batter to bunt frequently draws the infield in.

Watch the catcher's signals and understand what sort of a ball is going to the batter and whether the nature of it is such that there is a good chance of its coming your way, when hit.

The first principle infielding for a second baseman, and one that applies to all infield postions, is to play the ball, don't let it play you.

Go in to meet the ball, especially if it is only medium hard hit. You stand a much better chance of making it bounce right by adjusting your distance to it, than you do by standing still and waiting for it to bounce any old way it may happen to. It finds you dead then, and unable to get to a sudden turn of it.

The matter of covering the bag is an open one and is usually settled according to an understanding between catcher and shortstop. If this is not arranged, confusion is apt to prevail.

When men are on bases the second baseman is able to keep the baserunner at the middle station guessing.

An understanding should always be arranged with the pitcher, as otherwise, while you are closing in on second the ball may be delivered and the batter drive a hit through the position left open by your attempt to catch the baserunner.

In handling assists for a double play, throw regardless of the runner coming down the path. As a rule he will take care of himself.

GREAT AUTO TOUR TO WORLD'S FAIR

2500 Machines, Valued at $5,000,000 and Carrying 10,000 Persons Are Expected to Participate.

R. W. Slusser, a New York automobile man now in St. Louis, says that fully 2500 autos valued at $5,000,000 and carrying 10,000 persons will start in the great auto tour from New York and the East to the World's Fair in St. Louis. The main body will leave New York July 26.

Among the thousands of enthusiasts who will start in the big run are some of the most prominent auto drivers in the country, including John Jacob Astor, James L. Brese, A. Gould Brokaw, J. Insley Blair, H. P. Bowden, B. N. Shanley, S. V. Stevens and Harlan W. Whipple. Gov. Odell of New York and Gov. Herrick of Ohio have been invited to participate.

The tour will stop at Alton, Ill., where the machines will be overhauled and decorated for the triumphal entry into the World's Fair city.

BOXERS DEMAND UNION SCALE

San Francisco Amateurs Refuse to Appear in Scheduled Bout Because of Small Purses.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—A series of so-called amateur boxing bouts were scheduled at the Bay City Athletic Club last night but the young pugilists refused to go on for the purses of $35 and $25 offered.

An association of boxers was recently formed and a schedule was adopted fixing the purses at $75 and $50 for the main and secondary bouts. The people who had assembled to witness the matches were refunded their money.

Furey Knocked Out Bolan.

CINCINNATI, April 7.—Barney Furey of Cincinnati knocked out Jack Bolan of Denver, Colo., in the fifth round of what was scheduled to go 20 rounds at Covington, Ky., last night. The men are welterweights.

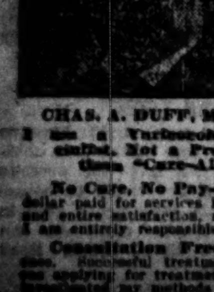
DR. DUFF'S QUICK, CERTAIN AND SAFE CURE FOR

VARICOCELE

THE ONLY KNOWN METHOD THAT CURES THE DISEASE WITHOUT A SURGICAL OPERATION LOSS OF BLOOD, THE LEAST BIT OF PAIN AND NOT INTERFERING WITH OCCUPATION.



CHAS. A. DUFF, M. D.

I am a Varicocele Specialist, Not a Pretentious "Cure-All."

My treatment by Acupuncture and Absorption checks the overflow of blood to the scrotal veins and removes the stagnant flow that obstructs the circulation, so that the ganglionic nerves, the weakness of which causes Varicocele, are restored to strength and normal circulation to the organs is resumed without a sign or symptom of Varicocele ever returning.

In treating Varicocele it is always necessary to cure the complications, if the disease has been neglected, which are often worse than the cause, and I never dismiss a patient until I have restored their private organs to their natural size, strength and soundness, revitalized the nervous system so that nervousness disappears, stopped all vital drains and emissions, revived sexual power and renewed the body with a robust condition and perfect health.

There are thousands of men deceived by unskilled doctors, who claim to cure Varicocele by applications of medicines, electricity, suspensories and many other deceptive schemes, and this is why there are so many who have become so skeptical as to think there is no cure for them. There never was a cure for Varicocele except by surgical operation or my methods. Surgical operations are often dangerous, unsuccessful and painful.

No Cure, No Pay—Every patient is given a written guarantee to refund every dollar paid for services in a specified length of time if they do not receive a complete, lifelong cure and entire satisfaction, and my well-known financial standing is sufficient evidence to anyone that I am entirely responsible for any contract that is not fulfilled.

Consultation Free, Confidential and Invited, both at office and by correspondence. Successful treatment by mail. Terms are always made to suit the convenience of anyone applying for treatment and very reasonable charges. Do not treat elsewhere until you have investigated my methods and terms. Office hours during week, 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.; Sundays, 9 to 1.
